Japan Quarterly Contents: Vol. 1 (1954)–Vol. 48 (2001)

In response to many reader requests, here is a list of the feature content of Japan Quarterly from its first issue. The list gives titles of feature articles with volume, issue and page numbers. It does not include recent publications and book reviews, chronologies, editor's notes or letters to the editor. Some references have been edited for style consistency.

Volume 1, Number 1 (October–December 1954)

- Rôyama Masamichi: Prospects of Constitutional Democracy in Japan, 1
- Ôkita Saburô: South and Southeast Asia and the Japanese Economy, 8
- Basic Trends
  - Rearmament Issues, 19
  - Economic Difficulties, 27
  - Political Tides, 30
- Tamura Zitsuzô and Kobayashi Yukio: Tombs and Mural Paintings of Ch'ing-ling, 34
- Edward Seidensticker: "In Praise of Shadows"—A Prose Elegy by Tanizaki, 46
- Ibuse Masuji: "The Far-Worshiping Commander" (A Novel. Translated by Glenn W. Shaw), 53
- Itô Sei: Modern Japanese Literature (Pre-Meiji and Early Meiji Era), 74
- Fukuhara Rintarô: Women, Gods and Letters, 87
- Maeda Tamon: To Foster Fathers, 92
- Hasegawa Nyozekan: A New Cultural Era for Japan in the Womb of Time, 94
- Ryû Shintarô: Potatoes in a Bucket, 96
- Dr. M.A. Rauf: Asian Sympathies, 99
- Matsukata Saburô: "Everest" Aftermath, 100
- Tôbata Seiichi: Excess Farm Population, 101
- Ayusawa Iwao: The Labor Problem in Japan, 104
- Matsuoka Yôko: "A Column for Women", 117

Volume 2, Number 1 (January–March 1955)

- Matsukata Saburô: Problem of an Island Nation, 1
- Lord Lindsay of Birker: Japan, China and the West, 6
- Kaizuka Shigeki: Historical Background of the New China, 14
- Basic Trends
  - Views on China, 22
  - Political Tides, 27
  - Economic Trends, 31
- Tanaka Shinjirô: "Death Ash": Experience of 23 Japanese Fishermen, 36
- Yanagi Sôetsu: Japanese Rural Pottery, 43
- Suzuki Daisetsu: The Oriental Way of Thinking, 51
- Glenn W. Shaw: Changed, Changing and Unchanged Japan, 59
- Noma Seiroku: Faking the Prints, 62

Japan Quarterly Contents: Vol. 1 (1954)–Vol. 48 (2001)

In response to many reader requests, here is a list of the feature content of Japan Quarterly from its first issue. The list gives titles of feature articles with volume, issue and page numbers. It does not include recent publications and book reviews, chronologies, editor's notes or letters to the editor. Some references have been edited for style consistency.

Volume 1, Number 1 (October–December 1954)

- Rôyama Masamichi: Prospects of Constitutional Democracy in Japan, 1
- Ôkita Saburô: South and Southeast Asia and the Japanese Economy, 8
- Basic Trends
  - Rearmament Issues, 19
  - Economic Difficulties, 27
  - Political Tides, 30
- Tamura Zitsuzô and Kobayashi Yukio: Tombs and Mural Paintings of Ch'ing-ling, 34
- Edward Seidensticker: "In Praise of Shadows"—A Prose Elegy by Tanizaki, 46
- Ibuse Masuji: "The Far-Worshiping Commander" (A Novel. Translated by Glenn W. Shaw), 53
- Itô Sei: Modern Japanese Literature (Pre-Meiji and Early Meiji Era), 74
- Fukuhara Rintarô: Women, Gods and Letters, 87
- Maeda Tamon: To Foster Fathers, 92
- Hasegawa Nyozekan: A New Cultural Era for Japan in the Womb of Time, 94
- Ryû Shintarô: Potatoes in a Bucket, 96
- Dr. M.A. Rauf: Asian Sympathies, 99
- Matsukata Saburô: "Everest" Aftermath, 100
- Tôbata Seiichi: Excess Farm Population, 101
- Ayusawa Iwao: The Labor Problem in Japan, 104
- Matsuoka Yôko: "A Column for Women", 117

Volume 2, Number 1 (January–March 1955)

- Matsukata Saburô: Problem of an Island Nation, 1
- Lord Lindsay of Birker: Japan, China and the West, 6
- Kaizuka Shigeki: Historical Background of the New China, 14
- Basic Trends
  - Views on China, 22
  - Political Tides, 27
  - Economic Trends, 31
- Tanaka Shinjirô: "Death Ash": Experience of 23 Japanese Fishermen, 36
- Yanagi Sôetsu: Japanese Rural Pottery, 43
- Suzuki Daisetsu: The Oriental Way of Thinking, 51
- Glenn W. Shaw: Changed, Changing and Unchanged Japan, 59
- Noma Seiroku: Faking the Prints, 62

• G.R. Storry: An Englishman Looks at Diet Hill, 64
• Tatsuno Yutaka: Sweet Lies, Bitter Lies, 68
• Katayama Hiroko: Two Essays From "Candlemas": "Eggplant Patch" and "Bride's Trousseau" (Translated by Sakanishi Shio), 70
• Niwa Fumio: "A Touch of Shyness" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 76
• Kawabata Yasunari: "The Mole" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 86
• Itô Sei: Modern Japanese Literature (Development in Journalism in Meiji Era), 94
• Danno Nobuo: Japanese Agriculture After the Postwar Land Reform, 108

Volume 2, Number 2 (April–June 1955)

• Basic Trends
  The Japanese General Election, 135
  Political Tides, 139
  Economic Trend, 144
• Inaba Hidezô: Problems of Economic Recovery and Self-Support, 148
• Kiuchi Nobutane: Japan's Payments Position, Balance Possible? 159
• Izui Hisanosuke: Mystery of Japanese Language, 165
• Wakimoto Rakushiken: Maeda Seison, 172
• Ozaki Kazuo: "The Thin Rooster" (A Novel. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 184
• Charles Locke: Berlin and Tokyo, 202
• Shiraishi Bon: The Egg, 207
• Ishikawa Kin-ichi: Makers and Users, 208
• Hiyama Yosio: "Gyotaku", 210
• Donald Keene: The Three Monstrosities of Kyoto, 213
• Oka Naomichi: Does Radar Interfere? 215
• Sakanishi Shio: A Dilemma of Japanese Film World, 219
• Itô Sei: Pioneers of the New Literature, 224
• Sakamoto Tarô: Historical Research in Japan, 235

Volume 2, Number 3 (July–September 1955)

• Basic Trends
  Foreign Policy and Its Background, 269
  Political Tides, 273
  Economic Trend, 279
• Ryû Shintarô: A Dialogue, 283
• Ueyama Shôji: Afro-Asian Conference, 291
• Ôkita Saburô: ECAFE's Tokyo Conference, 294
• Watsuji Tetsurô: Foreign Languages and the Japanese, 302
• Edmund Blunden: "How Should I Forget?" 308
• Uramatsu Samitarô: Undertow, 313
• Inoue Yasushi: "The Azaleas of Hira" (A Novel. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 322
• Taniguchi Yoshirô: Tatami and Chair, 349
• Fujishima Toshio: An Invitation to Our Home, 350
• Nakaya Ukichirô: Encyclopaedia Britannica: Two Anecdotes, 352
• Itô Sei: Ozaki Kôyô and His Circle, 355
• Karasawa Tomitarô: Changes in Japanese Education as Revealed in Textbooks, 365

Volume 2, Number 4 (October–December 1955)

• Basic Trends

Soviet-Japanese Negotiations in London, 401
Political Tides, 406
Economic Trend, 412
• Ryû Shintarô: Land Development in Japan, 416
• Wadachi Kiyoo: Weather and the Japanese, 429
• Noma Seiroku: Yokoyama Taikan, 439
• Usui Yoshimi: Shiga and Akutagawa, 447
Ivan Morris: Introductory Notes, 452
Shiga Naoya: "The Artist" and "Han's Crime", 456
Akutagawa Ryûnosuke: "The Nose" and "The Painting of an Autumn Mountain", 469
(Short Stories. Translated by Ivan Morris)
• Ueda Tatsunosuke: Some Business Women in Saikaku, 482
• Sakanishi Shio: Women Writers of Today, 489
• John G. Mills: W.B. Yeats and Noh, 496
• Saitô Takeshi: English Studies in Japan, 501
• R.A. Close: Memory in Miyajima, 505
• Itô Sei: Rise of Naturalism, 509
• Kindaichi Kyôsuke: A Historical Study of Japan's Northern Problem, 516
• Matsumoto Shigeharu: The International House of Japan, 526

Volume 3, Number 1 (January–March 1956)
• Basic Trends
Political, 1
Economic, 8
Social, 12
• Wada Hitoshi: A Journalist's View of Communist China, 17
• Kitani Tadashi: Attitudes Towards America, 27
• Shimada Tatsumi: Japan Reconsiders? 36
• Ellen D. Psaty: Takeuchi Seihô: A Kyoto Painter, 42
• Niwa Fumio: "The Hateful Age" (A Short Story. Translated by Ivan Morris), 54
• Modern Japanese Poems, 79
Andô Ichirô: Introduction
Nishiwaki Junzaburô "January in Kyoto", 81
Kaneko Mitsuharu "The Soap Bubbles" (Translated by Fukuda Rikutarô), 84
Tamura Ryûichi "A Poem of October" (Translated by Narita Shigehisa), 87
Tsuboi Shigeji "The Room" (Translated by Narita Shigehisa), 88
Miyoshi Tatsuji "Sea-Gulls" and "A Boy" (Translated by Ishii Shônosuke), 89
Kusano Shimpei "Stone" (Translated by Thomas T. Ichinose), 91
Murano Shirô "An Autumn Dog" and "A Beggar" (Translated by Andô Ichirô), 92
• Burton Watson: The Dark Slopes, 95
• Akimoto Shunkichi: Kabuki Audiences, Past and Present, 99
• Ikeda Kiyoshi: Western Food, Japanese Food, 104
• Morita Yûzô: The National Income and the Standard of Living in Japan, 107
Volume 3, Number 2 (April–June 1956)
• Basic Trends
Political, 131
Economic, 135
Social, 140

• Ashida Hitoshi: The Realities of Japan's Foreign Policy—The Conservative View, 145
• Sata Tadataka: The Socialist View on Foreign Policy, 161
• John Bester: Social Attitudes When East and West Meet, 167
• Edward Seidensticker: Thoughts on Anti-American Sentiment in Japan, 176
• Lily Abegg: Japan Reconsiders—A Reply to Mr. Shimada, 184
• Taniguchi Yoshirô: The Traditional Japanese House and Its Contemporary Significance, 189
• Kôda Aya: "The Black Skirt" (A Sketch. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 196
• Iwamura Shinobu: Hunting for the Genghis Khanid Mongols in Afghanistan, 213
• Abe Yoshishige: The Temperature of the Water, 216
• Kawakita Nagamasa: Japanese Audiences and Foreign Films, 219
• Tanaka Kôtarô: Photocracy, 222
• Ôhara Sôichirô: The Birds of Japan, 224
• Nagata Takeshi: Japanese Programs for the International Geophysical Year 1957–58, 227

Volume 3, Number 3 (July–September 1956)

• Basic Trends
  Political, 261
  Economic, 267
  Social, 271
• Gordon T. Bowles: Postwar Trends in Japanese Attitudes Toward America, 276
• Aki Kôichi: Japan's Energy Resources, 287
• The Productivity Movement in Japan and Its Problems
  Ishizaka Taizô: The Management Viewpoint, 293
  Ôta Kaoru: The Sôhyô Viewpoint, 296
  Koga Sen: The Sôdômei Viewpoint, 301
• Fukushima Shigetarô: Yasui Sôtarô, 306
• Mishima Yukio: "Death in Midsummer" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 315
• Ishida Eiichirô: The Moon and Immortality, 341
• Mori Iwao: Madame Okohnen, 344
• R.P. Dore: The Day the Fire Brigade Went Fishing, 347
• Akimoto Shunkichi: The Three Mountains of Yamato, 356
• Nakajima Kenzô: Copyright in Japan, Past and Present, 364

Volume 3, Number 4 (October–December 1956)

• Basic Trends
  Political, 397
  The Territorial Issue in Moscow, 401
  Economic, 405
  Social, 408
• Maeda Tamon: The Direction of Postwar Education in Japan, 414
• Itô Noboru: The Reform of Japanese Education, 425
• Uchimura Kanzô—Prophet, Patriot, Christian
  Takagi Yasaka: His Contribution to the Japanese Tradition, 431
  Otis Cary: Uchimura, Neesima and Amherst—Recently Discovered Correspondence, 439
• Matsushita Takaaki: Sesshû, His Life and Art, 460
• Hayashi Fumiko: "Late Chrysanthemum" (A Short Story. Translated by John Bester), 468

• Ichikawa Sanki: On the Japanese Cicada, 487
• Matsukata Saburô: Hemp Reed Charcoal and the Himalayan Expedition, 490
• Abe Tsuyako: Middle-Aged Women, 492
• Tuzi Ziro: Invention and Imitation, 495
• Suehiro Yasuo: Emperors and Fishes, 497
• John G. Mills: Some English Poets in Japan, 501

Volume 4, Number 1 (January–March 1957)
• Basic Trends
Political: Settlement and Strife, 1
Economic: The Businessman's Nightmare, 6
Social: Society and the Aged, 10
• Arnold J. Toynbee: The Role of Japan in World History, 15
• Ryû Shintarô: An Economy Without a Frontier, 21
• Hisatomi Mitsugu: Hayami Gyoshû: Man of Tradition, Man of Change, 31
• Tamiya Torahiko: "The Picture Book" (A Short Story. Translated by Charles S. Terry), 40
• Akimoto Shunkichi: Japanese Festivals and the New Year, 57
• W.R. McAlpine: A Visit to Hamada Shôji at Mashiko, 61
• Masamune Hakuchô: Thoughts on the New Religions, 65
• Fukushima Keiko: Rouault Today, 69
• Nomura Kodô: Twelve Thousand Records, 74
• Kida Minoru: The Laws of the Buraku, 77
• Heinrich Engel: The Country of Architecture, 89
• Inouye Syuzi: Japan in Search of a Soul, 96
• Saheki Kiichi: The Rebuilding of Japan's Self-Defense Force, 101
Volume 4, Number 2 (April–June 1957)
• Basic Trends
Political: A Short-Lived Cabinet, 135
Economic: Tax Cuts and Positive Policies, 141
Social: Nikoyon—the Day Laborers, 147
• Kanô Hisaakira: Views on U.S.-Japanese Relations, 152
• Ivan Morris: Fiction in Japan Today: An Exchange of Views, 159
• Miyata Shimpachirô: Translated Literature in Japan, 169
• Richard Lane: Saikaku and the Japanese Novel of Realism, 178
• Tsuboi Shigeji: "Azaleas" (A Poem. Translated by J.G. Mills and Fukuda Rikutarô), 189
• Miyata Shigeo: Umehara Ryûzaburô: Japanese Modern, 190
• Fukazawa Shichirô: "The Oak Mountain Song" (A Short Story. Translated by John Bester), 200
• Itô Sei: On "The Oak Mountain Song", 233
• Theyre Lee-Elliott: Party at Kyoto, 236
• Fukuhara Rintarô: Literary Circuits, 239
• Anthony Thwaite: Some Reflections After Teaching in Japan, 244
• Jugaku Bunshô: Where They Still Make Paper By Hand, 249
Volume 4, Number 3 (July–September 1957)
• Basic Trends
Political: No Kishi Boom Yet, 271
Economic: Warning Signals, 275
Social: "The Teahouse of the August Moon", 279

• Rôyama Masamichi: The U.S.-Japanese Security Treaty—A Japanese View, 284
• Kase Toshikazu: Japan and the United Nations, 296
• Nishiwaki Yasushi: Radioactivity and Mankind, 303
• Tanikawa Tetsuzô: Some Characteristics of Japanese Art, 311
• Hirabayashi Hirondo: The Discovery of Japan From the North, 318
• Charles S. Terry: Tessai's Tradition, 329
• Takenaka Iku: "My Reflection" and Kitagawa Fuyuhiko: "A Horse and a Landscape" (Two poems. Translated by J.G. Mills and Fukuda Rikutarô), 338
• Sawano Hisao: "The River at Night" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 339
• Ibuse Masuji: My First Year's Fishing, 358
• Ishikawa Kin-ichi: Lilies, 362
• H. Vere Redman: Foreign Interest in Japan, 365
• Glenn W. Shaw: Hail and Farewell, Harou-Gudobai, 369
• Changing Japan: I Danno Nobuo: Land From the Sea—Japan's Reclamation Projects, 373

Volume 4, Number 4 (October–December 1957)
• Basic Trends
Political: Kishi in the International Field, 403
Economic: A Shallow Economy, 409
Social: Japan's New Church Militant, 413
• Doi Akira: Communist China As We See It, 420
• Sone Eki: Future Policy Toward Communist China, 430
• Iwasaki Akira: The Battle of the Screens: Japan's Movie Industry Today, 440
• Motoyama Keisen: Japan's Literary Steles, 446
• Ishida Eiichirô: The Island of Women, 454
• Edward Seidensticker: Words and the P.E.N., 461
• Kusano Shimpei: "Window" (A Poem. Translated by J.G. Mills and Fukuda Rikutarô), 465
• Murô Saisei: My Neighbor Kokei, 466
• Takeda Taijun: "The Misshapen Ones" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 472
• Sakanishi Shio: My Friend Potsdam, 500
• Irie Sukemasa: Conversation? 503
• Shiraishi Bon: The Mighty Seal, 506
• Changing Japan: II Ôhara Sôichirô: From Cotton to Vinylon, 510

Volume 5, Number 1 (January–March 1958)
• Basic Trends
Political: Labor at the Crossroads, 1
Economic: Outlook Uncertain, 7
Social: No Jobs for Women Graduates, 10
• Satô Naotake: The League and the U.N., 15
• Joseph Roggendorf: The Place of Religion in Modern Japan, 21
• Masutani Fumio: Religion As We See It, 30
• Stephen Spender: Notes on My Ignorance of Japan, 37
• Iwao Seiichi: The "Country of Silver", 43
• Saitô Torao: In Search of Traditional Homes, 51
• Nakajima Kenzô: Miyazawa Kenji—The Man and His Works, 59

• Miyazawa Kenji: "Wildcat and the Acorns" (A Story. Translated by John Bester), 63
• Three Poems of Miyazawa Kenji: "Shadow From a Future Sphere," "Petals of Karma" and "The Dance of a Snake" (Translated by J.G. Mills and Fukuda Rikutarô), 69
• Three Stories From Saikaku (Translated by Richard Lane), 71
• Yanagi Sôetsu: Munakata Shikô: Child of Nature, 83
• Charles S. Terry: The Western Element in Munakata, 90
• Yoshida Ken'ichi: On Nothing in Particular, 94
• Ômachi Fumie: Singing Insects of Autumn, 97
• Fukata Kyûya: Brief Encounters, 100
• Changing Japan: III Tachi Minoru: The Population Problem, 103

Volume 5, Number 2 (April–June 1958)

• Basic Trends
  Political: Japan's Peripatetic Premier, 131
  Economic: The Economics of Overpopulation, 135
  Social: Baseball, the National Sport, 139
• Yokota Kisaburô: The Freedom of the Seas in Peril, 143
• Kenneth E. Colton: Some Reflections on Japanese Politics, 151
• Itô Noboru: The "Little School" in Japan, 162
• Shiraishi Bon: Merchants of Osaka, 169
• Kurahashi Takeshi: Western Drama in Japan, 178
• Imaizumi Atsuo: The Devout Painter of Civitavecchia, 186
• Nagai Kafû: A Strange Tale From East of the River (A Novel. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 195
• Burton Watson: The Rainbow World, 223
• Fukuhara Rintarô: The Rising Generation, 226
• William S. Clark 2nd: Glimpses of Japan From a Family Album, 229
• Changing Japan: IV Asano Nagamitsu: Japan's Deep-Sea Fishing Industry, 236

Volume 5, Number 3 (July–September 1958)

• Basic Trends
  Political: Whither the Socialists? 267
  Economic: The Foreign Currency Budget, 271
  Social: The "Kamikaze" Taxi, 275
• Hotta Yoshie: Impressions of China Since the War, 280
• Nishibori Eizaburô: Life With Dogs in the Antarctic, 294
• Maeda Tamon: East and West Meet in Paris, 301
• Hisatomi Mitsugu: Ernerst F. Fenollosa and Japanese Art, 307
• Takeda Michitarô: Kaburagi Kiyokata: Painter of Beauties, 315
• Hyman Kublin: A Salute to Townsend Harris, 324
• Saigusa Hiroto: Japanese Astronomy in the Tokugawa Era, 332
• Enchi Fumiko: "Enchantress" (A Short Story. Translated by John Bester), 339
• Kôno Yoichi: Against the Grain, 360
• W.R. McAlpine: At Tenri, 363
• Fukase Motohiro: Common Greenness, 367
• Changing Japan: V Azami Eikichi: The Shipbuilding Industry: Past and Present, 370

Volume 5, Number 4 (October–December 1958)

• Basic Trends
  Political: Foreign Policy and the Public, 401
  Economic: Trade Deadlock With Communist China, 407
  Social: The Faces of Violence, 412

• Watanabe Seiki: The Road to Atomic Power, 418
• Ebata Kiyoshi: The Japan Communist Party: Its Development Since the War, 426
• Doi Akira: Two Years' Exchanges With China, 435
• Suzuki T. Daisetz: Zen in the Modern World, 452
• Koizumi Shinzô: The Teacher of the Nation: Fukuzawa Yukichi and Keio University, 462
• Tani Shin'ichi: Ogata Kôrin: Artist to the Merchant Class, 468
• Dazai Osamu: "Osan" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 478
• Fukata Kyûya: Wandering in the Himalayas, 488
• Iwamura Shinobu: Oases and Karez, 497
• I.I. Morris: By the Sea of Japan, 500
• Kitaô Hideichi: Friendship and the Elephant, 504
• Changing Japan: VI Ina Nobuo: Japan's Photographic Industry, 507

Volume 6, Number 1 (January–March 1959)
• Basic Trends
Political: Bureaucracy on the Move, 1
Economic: High Stocks at the Saucer's Bottom, 5
Social: Changing Marriage, 8
• Takeyama Michio: The Secularization of Feudal Japan, 13
• Mura Tsuneo: The Rhee Line, 23
• Edward Seidensticker: The View From Okinawa, 36
• Khu Eng-Han: Formosa—A Formosan View, 43
• Noma Seiroku: Kawai Gyokudô and His Art, 52
• Ôe Kenzaburô: "The Catch" (A Short Story. Translated by John Bester), 60
• Burton Watson: Mibu Kyôgen, 95
• Peter Robinson: A Shaft of Sunlight, 99
• Akimoto Shunkichi: The Decline of the Seasons, 103
• Wakasugi Kei: Buddhas of the Field, 108
• Changing Japan: VII Danno Nobuo: Rice Cultivation, 111
Volume 6, Number 2 (April–June 1959)
• Basic Trends
Political: Koreans in Japan, 137
Economic: Returning to Normal, 141
Social: The Prince and the Commoner, 144
• A Turning-Point: A Discussion With the Seven-Man Committee, 149
• P.C. Mahalanobis: Tagore and Japan, 157
• Nakano Yoshio: English Literature in Japan, 165
• Fanny H. Mayer: In Search of Folk Tales, 175
• Shû Hajime: Four Hokkaidô Sketches, 183
• Elise Grilli: Art Exhibitions in Tokyo, 196
• Charles S. Terry: Tange Kenzô—No Friend of Tradition, 201
• Kawaguchi Matsutarô: "A Bell in Fukagawa" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 211
• Paul C. Blum: The Bell at Shinagawa-Ji, 228
• Yashiro Yukio: Art and the Statesman, 230
• Haruyama Takematsu: Seventy Years of Kokka, 234
• Fukuoka Seiichi: The Hawker of Roses, 236
• Changing Japan: VIII Takahashi Saburô: The Electric Power Industry, 240

Volume 6, Number 3 (July–September 1959)

- Basic Trends
  - Political: The Socialist Impasse, 269
  - Economic: Competition and Control, 274
  - Social: Women at Work, 277
- Ôkita Saburô: A Reappraisal of Japan's Economy, 282
- Miyasawa Toshiyoshi: The Constitution in Trouble, 291
- Nakane Chie: On the Frontiers of Tibet, 297
- Iwao Seiichi: An Early Dutchman in Japan, 308
- Itô Makoto: Photographing Bird Life, 316
- Nishikawa Masami: American Literature in Japan, 322
- Suzuki Susumu: Ike Taiga: Painter of Nanga, 331
- Nakajima Ton: "The Wild Beast" (A Short Story. Translated by Ivan Morris), 342
- Francis King: A First Glance at Japan, 351
- Ishikawa Kin'ichi: Just Family Fare, 353
- Burton Watson: Kiyomori and the Memory of the Past, 356
- Yoshida Ken'ichi: On Living in Places, 361
- Changing Japan: IX Tsuji Yutaka: Japan's Automobile Industry, 364

Volume 6, Number 4 (October–December 1959)

- Basic Trends
  - Political: Revising the Security Pact, 395
  - Economic: The Price of Rice, 401
  - Social: The Wives' Paradise, 405
- Itagaki Yoichi: Reparations and Southeast Asia, 410
- Matsukata Saburô: The Matsukata Collection, 420
- Arakawa Hidetoshi: A Meteorologist Looks at History, 427
- Donald Richie: Henry Adams in Japan, 434
- Kawakita Kashiko: The Japanese Film in Europe, 443
- Two Poems by Kakinomoto Hitomaro (Translated by Earl Miner and Robert H. Brower), 448
- Okada Akio: "Southern Barbarian" Screens, 453
- Inoue Yasushi: "Lou-lan" (A Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 460
- Edmund Blunden: A Return to Japan, 490
- Fukuhara Rintarô: The Old Familiar Faces, 494
- Toyama Shigehiko: Some Thoughts on Shibusa, 498
- Changing Japan: X Ueda Toshirô: The Beer-Brewing Industry, 502

Volume 7, Number 1 (January–March 1960)

- Basic Trends
  - Political: The Socialist Split, 1
  - Economic: Crisis in the Coal Industry; Toward Free Trade, 5
  - Social: Off to the Mountains, 9
- Ryû Shintarô: A Dialogue on Peaceful Coexistence, 13
- Takahashi Kamekichi: The Communist Chinese Economy As I Saw It, 24
- Hirayama Takeshi: Recent Trends in Cancer Research in Japan, 32
- Uemura Rokurô: Folk Arts in Okinawa, 41
- W.R. McAlpine: Haiku, 47
- Nakamura Mitsuo: The French Influence in Modern Japanese Literature, 57
- Kikumura Itaru: "Iwojima" (A Short Story. Translated by John Bester), 66

• Burton Watson: The Black Fudô, 89
• Bernard Rudofsky: The Kimono Mind, 94
• Nakajima Sadao: The Fox's Wedding March, 101
• Changing Japan: XI Honda Shizuya: New Homes, New Habits, 104
Volume 7, Number 2 (April–June 1960)
• Basic Trends
Political: The New Security Treaty, 129
Economic: Developments Toward Free Trade, 133
Social: The Red "Thunder Tribe", 137
• Seki Yoshihiko: New Trends in Japanese Socialism, 142
• Fukuoka Seiichi: Tokyo as an International News Market, 152
• Doi Akira: The Chinese Communes Today, 161
• Fukai Shinji: A Persian Treasure in the Shôsô-in Repository, 169
• Gerald Moore: The Nô and the Dance Plays of W.B. Yeats, 177
• Shimada Tatsumi: Japan in Foreign Textbooks, 188
• Takahashi Kenji: German Literature in Japan, 193
• Nagai Tatsuo: "Brief Encounter" and "One" (Two Short Stories. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 200
• Takeda Michitarô: The Art of Fukuda Heihachirô, 218
• Nishikawa Masami: Tokyo's Secondhand Bookstores, 226
• Edward Seidensticker: Tell Me All About Japan, 228
• Osaragi Jirô: Cats and Kabuki, 231
• James Kirkup: New Year in Sendai, 232
• Changing Japan: XII Okuda Norihisa: The Electronics Industry, 236
Volume 7, Number 3 (July–September 1960)
• Basic Trends
Political: Unions and Parties, 261
Economic: The Bank of Japan, 265
Social: Family Reunions, 270
• Takeyama Michio: Tradition and Japanese Youth, 274
• William Lange: Some Remarks on the Japanese Press, 281
• Ebisawa Arimichi: Crypto-Christianity in Tokugawa Japan, 288
• Matsudaira Narimitsu: Summer Festivals, 295
• Kimura Ki: The Japanese "Mayflower", 302
• Kawakita Michiaki: A Painter Looks at History, 310
• Kikuchi Kan: "The Realm Beyond" (A Short Story. Translated by John Bester), 317
• Senuma Shigeki: The Influence of Russian Literature in Japan, 343
• Two Poems From the Man'yôshû (Translated by Geoffrey Bownas), 350
• Sakanishi Shio: Once Bitten… , 355
• David W. Plath: Land of the Rising Sunday, 357
• Oda Mikio: A Japanese Coach in Spain, 362
• Changing Japan: XIII Fukushima Yôichi: Agricultural Technology, 365
Volume 7, Number 4 (October–December 1960)
• Basic Trends
Political: From Kishi to Ikeda, 389
Economic: Continued Prosperity, 395
Social: The "Back-Home" Movement, 398
• What Happened in Japan: A Symposium, 402
The Cancellation of Eisenhower's Visit—U.S. Friendship Betrayed?—On the

Security Treaty—Free Press Gone Wrong?—Dictatorship of the Majority—The Student Movement—The "Demo" in Japan
• Kawakita Jirô: Last Rites and Lamas, 428
• Elise Grilli: New Trends in Japanese Painting, 437
• Ariyoshi Sawako: "Prayer" (A Short Story. Translated by John Bester), 447
• James Kirkup: The Haiku-Making Party, 482
• Yoshida Ken'ichi: Japan in the Limelight, 484
• Edward Seidensticker: On Retranslation, 487
• Ben Bruce Blakeney: A Sketch of the Development of Japanese Law, 491

Volume 8, Number 1 (January–March 1961)
• Basic Trends
Political: The General Election, 1
Economic: Doubling the National Income, 6
Social: Crime on the Increase, 10
• Nishi Haruhiko: Disarmament and the Great Powers: An Appeal From a Small Nation, 14
• Obata Misao: The Sino-Soviet Dispute: Notes From Lake Kawaguchi, 25
• Kawakita Michiaki: The World of Shibui, 33
• Ogawa Masataka: Japan's New Applied Art, 43
• Ibuse Masuji: "No Consultations Today" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 50
• Iwasaki Akira: New Wave, Old Sea, 80
• Yamamuro Shizuka: Scandinavian Literature in Japan, 87
• Theyre Lee-Elliott: The Moving Finger, 94
• Edwin O. Reischauer: Some Thoughts on Japanese Democracy, 98
• Shibusawa Hideo: The Bars of Babel, 103
• Changing Japan: XIV Aoki Kaizô: The National Railways, 106
Volume 8, Number 2 (April–June 1961)
• Basic Trends
Political: A New Start, 133
Economic: The Dollar Problem, 137
Social: Enjoying Life, 140
• Ryû Shintarô: Hopes in Mr. Kennedy, 144
• Watanabe Seiki: The Dollar Crisis and the Cold War, 152
• Yoshikawa Kôjirô: The Introduction of Chinese Culture, 160
• Iwao Seiichi: A Dutch Doctor in Old Japan, 170
• Noma Seiroku: A Modern Buddhist Mural, 179
• Yasuoka Shôtarô: "The Pawnbroker's Wife" and "The Glass Slipper" (Two Short Stories. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 188
• Donald Ploski: An American Motorcyclist in Japan, 207
• Kojima Ryôichi: Forgetting One's Japanese, 211
• Alec Hermann: Wintery Letter From Hokkaido to Burma, 215
• Katô Shûichi: Homo Viator, 219
• Charles L. Roberts: My Father is a Buddhist Priest, 222
• Changing Japan: XV Nakayama Seiki: The Rice Diet, 226
Volume 8, Number 3 (July–September 1961)
• Basic Trends
Political: The First Round, 253

Economic: Rising Prices, 257
Social: Work for the Blind, 260
• Japan and the China Problem, 265
Nakasone Yasuhiro: A Liberal-Democratic View, 266
Wada Hiroo: A Socialist View, 273
Sone Eki: A Democratic Socialist View, 279
• Komatsu Tsuneo: "Kombinat", 288
• Tachi Minoru: The "Baby Boom" and After, 295
• Yamamoto Shûgorô: "Jizô" (A Short Story. Translated by John Bester), 302
• Bernard Leach: Japan's Contribution to the World of Pottery, 336
• Eleanor King: The Laughter Lingers, 342
• Yoshida Ken'ichi: Time Flies, 346
• Rinoie Masafumi: The Windows of Kyoto, 349
• Sir Vere Redman: Japanese for Foreign Consumption, 351
• Changing Japan: XVI Katagiri Akinori: Broadcasting, 356

Volume 8, Number 4 (October–December 1961)

• Basic Trends
Political: A "Strong Men" Cabinet, 381
Economic: Warning Signals, 385
Social: Midsummer Madness, 388
• Ishida Eiichirô: A Culture of Love and Hate, 394
• Ishikawa Shigeru: Agricultural Crisis in China, 403
• Stephen Bradner: Korea: Experiment and Instability, 412
• Itani Jun'ichirô: The Society of Japanese Monkeys, 421
• Funabashi Seiichi: "Thistledown" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 431
• Tani Shin'ichi: Painting in the Muromachi Period, 460
• Theyre Lee-Elliott: A Brush With Authority, 469
• Itô Sei: Lovable Topknot, 473
• Burton Watson: Green Valley, 477
• Ethel Mannin: Japanese Gardens in Ireland, 481
• Changing Japan: XVII Ebata Kiyoshi: The Wage System, 486

Volume 9, Number 1 (January–March 1962)

• Basic Trends
Political: The Pivot of Free Asia? 1
Economic: The Stock Market Crash, 5
Social: Meddling With Morpheus, 9
• Inaba Shûzô: The Freeing of Trade, 13
• Obata Misao: Back From Berlin, 21
• Okuda Norihisa: Fallout and the Japanese, 27
• Ogura Kinnosuke: Mathematicians in Old Japan, 33
• Haruyama Takematsu: Screen Paintings of the Momoyama Period, 41
• Nakajima Kawatarô: Detective Fiction in Japan, 50
• Matsumoto Seichô: "Just Eighteen Months" and "Evidence" (Two Short Stories. Translated by John Bester), 57
• Matsukata Saburô: The Emperor's Private Seal, 86
• Edward Seidensticker: When Mugwort Last in the Dooryard Bloomed, 89
• Bernard Leach: Thoughts and Memories, 92

• Changing Japan: XVIII Takeuchi Hiroshi: Taller and Broader, 97
Volume 9, Number 2 (April–June 1962)
• Basic Trends
Political: A "Peculiar Party", 125
Economic: A Period of Adjustment, 129
Social: Taking Life Lightly, 133
• Three Proposals for World Peace
Philip Noel-Baker: Disarmament, 137
John Boyd Orr: Food Before Disarmament, 140
Norman Angell: World Government, 142
• Hasegawa Nyozekan: The Nature of Japanese History, 145
• George A. Lensen: Japan Through Russian Eyes, 148
• Saitô Takeshi: Ralph Hodgson in Japan, 152
• Furuta Shôkin: Daisetz T. Suzuki: The Daily Life of the Zen Adept, 160
• Toita Yasuji: Kabuki Today, 167
• Yasuda Kôzô: Tenkoku, 174
• Shiraishi Bon: The Asagaya Diary, 178
• Saitô Torao: Maekawa Kunio: Architect, 183
• Mishima Yukio: "Three Million Yen" and "Thermos Bottles" (Two Short Stories. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 190
• Richard Storry: Random Thoughts on Sazae-san, 215
• Earl Miner: Tourists, Students and Saints, 220
• Lewis Bush: Sailing in Japan, 223
• Changing Japan: XIX Kajiura Minoru: Fruit in Plenty, 227
Volume 9, Number 3 (July–September 1962)
• Basic Trends
Political: The Quiet Diet, 253
Economic: The Soviet-Japanese Fishery Talks, 257
Social: Musical Education, 261
• Takayanagi Kenzô: The New Emperor System, 265
• Ryû Shintarô: Some Doubts About Economic Growth, 275
• Kawazoe Noboru: The Ise Shrine, 285
• Donald Richie: Rudyard Kipling in Japan, 293
• Kimura Ki: The Legacy of Rizal, 301
• Satô Haruo: "The Tale of the Bridal Fan" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 309
• Shirôzu Takashi: Butterfly Town, 337
• Matsukata Saburô: The Mountaineering Minister, 342
• Sakanishi Shio: A Thatched Retreat, 348
• Changing Japan: XX Shimada Tomiko: Clothing Habits, 352
Volume 9, Number 4 (October–December 1962)
• Basic Trends
Political: The Upper House Elections, 385
Economic: Qualified Optimism, 388
Social: Developing Mount Fuji, 393
• Watanabe Seiki: Counter-force Strategy, 398
• Fukuhara Rintarô: An Apology for the Traitors, 407
• Hoshino Michihei: The Sea of Japan, 413
• Saitô Torao: The Japanese Element in Modern Architecture, 419

• Ishihara Akira: Kampô—Japan's Traditional Medicine, 429
• Ogawa Masataka: Painter of the Night, 438
• Takami Jun: "Slaughter" and "Mobile" (Two Short Stories. Translated by John Bester), 444
• Yuasa Katsue: Seoul Revisited, 467
• George Whipple: Go East, Expatriate! 471
• Edward Seidensticker: Tradition, Change, and Baseball, 475
• Changing Japan: XXI Tsuchiya Kiyoshi: The Coal Industry, 478

Volume 10, Number 1 (January–March 1963)
• Trends and Topics
Trading With China, 3
Settlement in Sight? 5
Coal and the Government, 7
A Socialist Reshuffle, 11
Cuba in the National Press, 14
• Nishijima Yoshiji: The Peace Constitution Controversy, 18
• Katayama Kenji: The Trade Expansion Act and Japan, 28
• Ishida Eiichirô: Unfinished But Enduring, 35
• Kawazoe Noboru: An Even Greater Life: The Memorial Center of the Twenty-Six Martyrs, 43
• Mushanokôji Saneatsu: "Three Cheers for Man!" (A Play. Translated by Kenneth Strong), 52
• Peter Robinson: The Party Line, 95
• Nishi Haruhiko: One Hundred Years Later, 99
• Shiraishi Bon: Alone Across the Pacific, 103
• Changing Japan: Ogino Yoshio: The Dairy Industry, 107
Volume 10, Number 2 (April–June 1963)
• Trends and Topics
Mr. Ikeda's Popularity, 137
Living Standards and the Economy, 140
The Sino-Soviet Dispute and Japan, 144
Help for the Shipping Industry, 148
The Ivory Towers Totter, 153
• Rôyama Masamichi: The Japanese Approach to World Affairs, 158
• Maruyama Shizuo: A Peace Corridor in Indo-China, 166
• Fukushi Jirô: Economic Cooperation With Southeast Asia, 175
• Nakagawa Zennosuke: A Century of Marriage Law, 182
• Ogawa Masataka: The Modern Print, 193
• Uno Kôji: "Children for Hire" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 200
• Nishimura Isamu: Doing Things Differently, 232
• Nakamura Yutaka: Pooh and the Princess, 240
• Fosco Maraini: Dawn at Ise, 242
• Itô Michito: Animals to Order, 245
• Changing Japan: XXII Komatsu Tsuneo: Kurobe the Forbidden, 250
Volume 10, Number 3 (July–September 1963)
• Trends and Topics
The Local Elections, 277
Berthing the Nuclear Submarine, 281

Trade Discrimination—A New Phase, 285
The Supermarket Gains Ground, 289
The Citizen Awakes, 294
• Edwin O. Reischauer: Modernization in Nineteenth-Century China and Japan, 298
• Horie Shigeo: Japan in the World Economy, 308
• Ebata Kiyoshi: The Labor Unions Today, 315
• Takeda Michitarô: Reality and Beyond: The Art of Tokuoka Shinsen, 324
• Okamoto Kanoko: "Scarlet Flower" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 331
• Nishimura Isamu: Doing Things Differently II, 349
• Shiota Ryôhei: Darby Looks at Joan, 357
• Rowland G. Gould: The Invisible Men, 360
• Nakano Yoshio: The Perennial Passenger, 364
• James Kirkup: Japan Journal, 367
• Changing Japan: Kageyama Saburô: The Aichi Irrigation Project, 372

Volume 10, Number 4 (October–December 1963)
• Trends and Topics
The Socialists and Communist China, 409
The Conservatives Look to Labor, 414
Rising Consumer Prices, 418
Upsetting the Weather Charts, 423
The Neglected Ones, 427
• Ryû Shintarô: World Federation and Japan, 432
• Hata Shôryû: Four Years in the Soviet Union, 439
• Yashiro Yukio: A Life With Art, 447
• Tanikawa Tetsuzô: Suda Kunitarô and His Work, 461
• Hirabayashi Taiko: "I Mean to Live" and "The Black Age" (Two Short Stories. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 469
• Nishimura Isamu: Doing Things Differently III, 494
• Roy Huss: Two Cinematic Ballets for Hands, 502
• Trevor Leggett: Masters of the Chessboard, 506
• Watanabe Takeshi: Our Odd Country, 507
• Changing Japan: Matsushita Keiichi: Women at Work, 512

Volume 11, Number 1 (January–March 1964)
• Ryû Shintarô: Ten Years Later, 3
• Trends and Topics
A Grief Shared, 10
Approving the Status Quo, 12
A Goodwill Tour, 16
The "Wet War", 20
Cars, Costs, and Competition, 23
• Matsumura Kenzô: Bridging the Gap to China, 27
• Nasu Shiroshi: Linking Past and Present, Indo-Japanese Relations, 32
• Kawakita Michiaki: Sakamoto Hanjirô, Painter, 39
• Nagai Kafû: "Quiet Rain" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 46
• Edward Seidensticker: The Unshapen Ones, 64
• Peter Robinson: The Pleasure Domes, 70
• R.H. Blyth: Haiku, Senryu, Zen, 76

• Rowland G. Gould: Women Inventors, 81
• Harold S. Williams: That Dreadful Word—Jap, 83
• Tamura Kansei: A Journey Into Far Eastern History, 87
• John Randolph: The Senior Partner, 92
• Pioneers of Modern Japan: I Nagai Michio: Mori Arinori, 98

Volume 11, Number 2 (April–June 1964)

• Trends and Topics
Decision Pending, 125
Talking at Cross-Purposes, 129
The Shipowners Regroup, 132
Japan in a Hurry, 136
• Kaizuka Shigeki: Confucianism in Japanese Life, 140
• Matsukata Saburô: Culture and Conferences, 146
• Tanaka Shinjirô: The New Highway: The First Trans-Pacific TV Relay, 151
• Daisetz T. Suzuki: The Wondrous Good Man, 157
• Morita Sôichi: Juvenile Delinquency in Japan, 162
• Mizui Yasuo: The Manazuru Symposium, 168
• Mishima Yukio: "Tropical Tree" (A Play. Translated by Kenneth Strong), 174
• Theyre Lee-Elliott: To Glow or Not to Glow, 211
• Sakanishi Shio: Educating a Heathen, 213
• Burton Watson: Michizane and the Plums, 217
• Pioneers of Modern Japan: II Kyôgoku Jun-ichi: Uemura Masahisa, 221

Volume 11, Number 3 (July–September 1964)

• Trends and Topics
The Open Economy and the Future, 261
Rapprochement With Peking? 265
Okinawa Today, 268
Society and the Universities, 272
• Ishida Eiichirô: Japan Rediscovered, 276
• Takagi Hiroo: The Rise of the New Religions, 283
• Imanishi Kinji: The Individual in the Society of Japanese Monkeys, 293
• Itô Kisaku: Stage Design in Japan, 301
• Kawabata Yasunari: The Sound of the Mountain (Excerpts From a Novel. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 309
• Fujishima Toshio: Life With the Bush Babies, 331
• Akimoto Shunkichi: Enchantment in Edo, 334
• James Kirkup: Journey Into Autumn Light, 337
• Shiraishi Bon: The Newspaper Serials, 341
• Hisatomi Mitsugu: Fenollosa and the American Dream, 346
• Pioneers of Modern Japan: III Yanagida Izumi: Tsubouchi Shôyô, 352

Volume 11, Number 4 (October–December 1964)

• Trends and Topics
Outlook for the Conservatives, 397
Divided Allegiance, 400
Report on the Constitution, 403
The Future on Rails, 407
• Yoshikawa Kôjirô: The Literature of Everyday Life, 411
• Iwasa Yoshizane: The Free Economy and the U.S., 423
• Tanaka Shinjirô: Collective Rationality in the Nuclear Age, 427

• Nakane Chie: Logic and the Smile—When Japanese Meet Indians, 434
• Kôjiro Yûichirô: Building for the Olympics, 439
• Kawabata Yasunari: The Sound of the Mountain II (Excerpts From a Novel. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 446
• Uchida Hyakken: Neco-Romanticism, 468
• John Bester: Monday Mornings Abroad, 471
• Tominaga Sôichi: Sayonara, Venus, 473
• Okada Sôzô: Science on the Screen, 476
• Tezuka Tomio: Goethe and the Japanese, 481
• Pioneers of Modern Japan: IV Koizumi Shinzô: Fukuzawa Yukichi, 486

Volume 12, Number 1 (January–March 1965)

• Trends and Topics
Mr. Satô Takes Over, 3
A Maladjusted Economy, 6
Labor Reorganizes, 9
Assessing the Chinese Bomb, 12
• Tôbata Seiichi: Japan and the North-South Question, 17
• Marius B. Jansen: Tokugawa and Modern Japan, 27
• Ryû Shintarô: Resetting the Course, 39
• Nagai Michio: The University and the Intellectual, 46
• George Whipple: The Japanese Viewpoint, 53
• Iwasaki Akira: Kurosawa and His Work, 59
• Yokomitsu Riichi: "Spring, in a Surrey" and "The Fly" (Short Stories. Translated by John Nathan), 65
• Dan Ikuma: The Zoo, 78
• Theyre Lee-Elliott: The Far Cry, 81
• A.W. Sadler: From a Senryu Notebook, 85
• Shiraishi Bon: The Chinese Way of Thinking, 87
• Hara Kakuten: Japanese Research on Developing Asia, 93
• Pioneers of Modern Japan: V Tsuchiya Takao: Shibusawa Eiichi, 99

Volume 12, Number 2 (April–June 1965)

• Trends and Topics
The Satô Government and China, 147
Keeping ILO Waiting, 151
Prices and Consumer Trends, 153
Nature at Bay, 157
• Miyasato Seigen: Hopes and Realities in Okinawa, 161
• Okada Tadao: The Unchanging Bureaucracy, 168
• Etô Jun: Modern Japanese Literary Criticism, 177
• Ogawa Masataka: Japanese Artists Abroad, 187
• Ôe Kenzaburô: "Lavish Are the Dead" (A Short Story. Translated by John Nathan), 193
• Kobayashi Hideo: Cartoons, 212
• Shiraishi Bon: The Intelligent Patriot, 215
• Inui Shin'ichirô: Of Toads and Men, 218
• Kishimoto Hideo: The Stolen Years, 222
• Masaoka Shiki: The Verse Record of My Peonies, 228
• Oka Masao: Shibusawa Keizô, 231

• Asô Isoji: R.H. Blyth, 234
• Pioneers of Modern Japan: VI Hasegawa Izumi: Mori Ôgai, 237
Volume 12, Number 3 (July–September 1965)
• Trends and Topics
Japan-ROK Treaties Initialed at Last, 283
Convention 87 Ratified, 287
A Pause in Prosperity, 290
A Museum of Modern Literature, 293
• Watanabe Seiki: The North Vietnam Bombings—The Balance Sheet, 297
• Maruyama Shizuo: Japanese Opinion and the Vietnam War, 303
• Miyaji Kenjirô: Asia and the U.N. Crisis, 311
• Tsukishima Kenzô: Hearn Versus Benedict, 317
• Tanikawa Tetsuzô: The Classic Japanese Garden, 324
• Dazai Osamu: "Romanesque" (A Short Story. Translated by John Nathan), 331
• Ôe Kenzaburô: A Portrait of the Postwar Generation, 347
• Norman Silverstein: Kurosawa's Detective-Story Parables, 351
• Kudô Naotarô: Farms of Musashino, 354
• Fukata Kyûya: After Manaslu—Postwar Japanese Alpine Expeditions, 357
• Suzuki Mosaburô: My Socialist Library, 365
• James Kirkup and Fukuda Rikutarô: The Poetry of Miyoshi Tatsuji, 370
• Pioneers of Modern Japan: VII Ryû Shintarô: Ikebe Sanzan, 379
Volume 12, Number 4 (October–December 1965)
• Trends and Topics
The Outlook for the Satô Government, 423
The Upper House and Metropolitan Assembly Elections, 427
Three Ban-the-Bomb Rallies, 430
Antarctic Surveys Resumed, 433
• Iwamura Shinobu: Japan's Future in Southeast Asia, 438
• Kim Sam-kyu: A Korean View of Ratification, 445
• Tanaka Shinjirô: The Whys of Vietnam, 454
• The Asahi Poll on Vietnam, 463
• Ôki Mutsuhiko: The Recession Controversy, 467
• Kôjiro Yûichirô: Modern Architecture and the Traditional Home, 476
• Takeda Taijun: "The Eatingest Girl" (A Short Story. Translated by John Nathan), 483
• Edward Seidensticker: Kafû and Tanizaki, 491
• R.P. Dore: Happy Families, 495
• Ôgiya Shôzô: Yoshikawa Eiji, 498
• Itô Sei: Modes of Thought in Contemporary Japan, 501
• Pioneers of Modern Japan: VIII Takeda Kiyoko: Yoshino Sakuzô, 515

Volume 13, Number 1 (January–March 1966)
• Trends and Topics
The Tempestuous Treaty, 3
Government Bonds to the Rescue, 6
New Trends in Juvenile Crime, 10
Development or Conservation? 13
• Matsumoto Shigeharu: The Future of U.S.-Japanese Relations, 17
• Morito Tatsuo: The Educational Reforms Reconsidered, 27
• Fukutake Tadashi: Japanse Agriculture Today, 36

• Mori Kyôzô: The Two Communisms, 46
• The Modern Century: I Albert Altman: Guido Verbeck and the Iwakura Embassy, 54
• Arakawa Hirokazu: The Lacquerware of Japan, 63
• Ibuse Masuji: "The Salamander" (A Short Story. Translated by Yokoo Sadamichi and Sanford Goldstein), 71
• Fanny Hagin Mayer: Tales for the Little New Year, 76
• Richard Storry: Otaru no Hikari, 79
• Vivienne Kenrick: Sea Piece, 81
• Asô Isoji: Japanese Humor, 84
• Miyazaki Isamu: Mr. Sarari Man's Day at the Office, 91
• Matsukata Saburô: Sir George Sansom, 1883–1965, a Personal Recollection, 97
• Miyake Sadao: The Lake Hachirô Reclamation Project, 100

Volume 13, Number 2 (April–June 1966)

• Trends and Topics
  Friendship With the Soviet Union, 143
  The Socialist Party Congress, 146
  Business Reorganizes, 149
  Japan's First Artificial Satellite, 153
• Ryû Shintarô: Japanese Thought in Post-Meiji Times, 157
• Horie Shigeo: Economic Co-operation With the Developing Nations, 172
• Inukai Michiko: Agreeing to Differ—A Report to America, 180
• Hayashi Yûjirô: Japan Twenty Years Hence, 188
• The Modern Century: II Tsuchiya Takao: The Modernization of the Economy (1), 195
• Yamanobe Tomoyuki: Dyeing Through the Ages, 207
• Abe Kôbô: "Stick" and "Red Cocoon" (Short Stories. Translated by John Nathan), 214
• Donald Richie: The Window of the Soul, 221
• Rowland G. Gould: Bridge to Nowhere, 223
• Ôe Kenzaburô: The Right to Deny Japan, 226
• Shiraishi Bon: Dr. Ohga Ichiro, 1883–1965, 231
• Fujinaga Motosaku: Farming for Sea-Food, 236

Volume 13, Number 3 (July–September 1966)

• Trends and Topics
  The Security Debate Warms Up, 277
  Assessing the Satô Government, 281
  Economic Upswing, 285
  Death Unlimited, 288
• Ueda Toshio: The Outlook for Relations With Communist China, 292
• Mori Kyôzô: The "Two Chinas", 301
• Watanabe Seiki: Three World Strategies and Japan, 310
• Takahashi Masao: The Intellectual in Japan and America, 319
• The Modern Century: III Tsuchiya Takao: The Modernization of the Economy (2), 330
• Mochizuki Shinjô: The Compassionate and the Wrathful, 340
• Hotta Yoshie: "Shadow Pieces" (A Short Story. Translated by P.G. O'Neill), 348
• Richard Storry: A Life-Long Affair, 366
• James Kirkup: A Poet in the Works, 371
• Ômuta Minoru: The Microcephalic Children of Hiroshima, 375

Volume 13, Number 4 (October–December 1966)

- Trends and Topics
  - The End of a Phase, 417
  - The Gromyko Visit, 421
  - Three Ban-the-Bomb Congresses, 424
  - Freeing Capital Transactions, 428
- Shiraishi Bon: A View of the Great Cultural Revolution, 433
- Nakamura Hajime: The Buddhist Protest, 439
- Kobayashi Naoki: The Japanese People and the Peace Article, 444
- Asano Jun'ichi: To an American Friend, 455
- The Modern Century: IV Ôto Tokihiko: Changing Ways of Life, 461
- Itô Teiji: Temple Architecture Today, 470
- Katô Shûichi: "The Pavilion of Great Poets" (A Short Story. Translated by Hilda Katô), 476
- Edward Seidensticker: The Xenophiliac Xenophobes, 490
- Fanny H. Mayer: Mushroom Ghosts, 492
- Graeme Wilson: The Poetry of Hagiwara Sakutarô, 496
- Shiraishi Bon: Nomura Yôzô, 507
- Kimura Hidemasa: Japan's Aircraft Industry, 513
- Ômuta Minoru: Survivors of the Bomb in Tokyo, 522

Volume 14, Number 1 (January–March 1967)

- Trends and Topics
  - Japan and the Manila Conference, 3
  - Stormy Seas Ahead, 6
  - JCP's New Independent Line, 9
  - Vietnam Special Procurement and the Economy, 13
- Sakamoto Yoshikazu: The Initiative for Peace, 17
- Andô Hikotarô: My Two Years in Peking, 26
- Youth and Nationalism in Asia
  - Matsuno Tanio: Communist China, 33
  - Akioka Ieshige: South Vietnam, 36
  - Hayashi Risuke: Indonesia, 39
- The Modern Century: V Hoshino Yoshirô: Science and Technology, 45
- Horie Tomohiko: Japanese Calligraphy, 53
- Kawabata Yasunari: "One Arm" (A Short Story. Translated by Edward Seidensticker), 60
- Shimao Toshio: Neglected Islands, 72
- Mervyn Brock: Matters of Form, 75
- Rowland G. Gould: The Veiled Reception, 79
- Furuta Shôkin: Daisetz T. Suzuki, 82
- Kishida Junnosuke: Japan's Rocketry, 87
- Shimizu Kiyoshi: Little-Known Effects of the Bomb, 93
- From the Editorials, 99

Volume 14, Number 2 (April–June 1967)

- Trends and Topics
  - The General Election and the Future, 131
  - Stepping Up Defense, 135
  - The Antitrust Law Under Fire, 138

• Kishida Junnosuke: Chinese Nuclear Development, 143
• Kurai Ryôzô: Basic Problems of the Revolution in China, 151
• Kojima Kiyoshi: Japan's Role in Asian Agricultural Development, 158
• Gotô Motoo: Political Awareness Among the Japanese—On The Asahi Shimbun Public Opinion Survey, 165
• The Modern Century: VI Irokawa Daikichi: Freedom and the Concept of People's Rights, 175
• Iizawa Tadasu: An Edo-Period Primitive—The Buddhist Carvings of Enkû, 184
• Ibuse Masuji: Black Rain (A Novel. Translated by John Bester), 187
• Fosco Maraini: Westernization of Sin, 218
• Shoga Hisao: A Doctor in South Vietnam, 221
• Takahashi Seiichirô: Koizumi Shinzô, 226
• Miyake Sadao: The Japanese Toy Industry, 230
• From the Editorials, 236

Volume 14, Number 3 (July–September 1967)

• Trends and Topics
  Installation of a Reformist Governor, 271
  Japanese Economic Assistance to Foreign Countries, 275
  A Government Survey of Atom-Bomb Survivors, 278
  Conference of World Newspaper Executives, 284
• Mori Kyôzô: The Logic and Psychology of North Vietnam, 286
• Maruyama Shizuo: The Other War in Vietnam, 297
• Horie Shigeo: Capital Liberalization, 304
• Kasahara Kazuo: Sôka Gakkai and Kômeitô—The Advance of a New Religion Into Politics, 311
• The Modern Century: VII Furuya Tsunatake: Meiji Women—Landmarks They Have Left, 318
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Jômon Pottery, 326
• Ibuse Masuji: Black Rain (2) (A Novel. Translated by John Bester), 333
• Earl Miner: My Encounters With Japanese Literature, 358
• James Kirkup: Tea at the Temple, 361
• Yashiro Yukio: Arthur Waley, 365
• From the Editorials, 370

Volume 14, Number 4 (October–December 1967)

• Trends and Topics
  Foreign Minister Miki's Moscow Visit, 407
  Power-Shifts in the JSP, 410
  Bomb-Banners at the Crossroads, 414
  Living Conditions in Japan, 418
• Nagano Shigeo: Russo-Japanese Trade, 422
• Ôkôchi Kazuo: Japanese University Problems, 429
• Kurai Ryôzô: The Great Cultural Revolution, 434
• Ômori Shigeo: Realignment of the JCP, 443
• The Modern Century: VIII Ryû Shintarô: Form to Formlessness—Political Weathering From Early Meiji Till Now, 451
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Dogû and Haniwa, 462
• Ibuse Masuji: Black Rain (3) (A Novel. Translated by John Bester), 469
• Peter Robinson: Land of Innocence, 490
• Edward Seidensticker: A Time for Me, 494

• Miyake Sadao: The Seikan Undersea Tunnel, 498
• From the Editorials, 505

Volume 15, Number 1 (January–March 1968)
• Trends and Topics
Mr. Satô's Visit to Southeast Asia, 3
Inflexibility in Public Finance, 6
The Traffic War Intensifies, 10
• The Okinawa Problem
Mori Kyôzô: Two Ends of a Telescope—Japanese and American Views of Okinawa, 14
Ômori Shigeo: Controversy Between Government and Opposition Parties, 22
Sakanaka Tomohisa: The Present Status of the Okinawa Reversion Movement, 30
The Asahi Shimbun Public Opinion Survey, 42
• Maruyama Shizuo: Asian Regionalism, 53
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Jaki, the Devils, 62
• Ibuse Masuji: Black Rain (4) (A Novel. Translated by John Bester), 69
• Miyake Sadao: The Japanese Motor Industry, 99
• From the Editorials, 106

Volume 15, Number 2 (April–June 1968)
• Trends and Topics
Going, Going, Gone: Frank Lloyd Wright's Imperial Hotel, 147
Japan's Role in the Economic Development of Siberia, 151
Keeping the JNR on the Rails, 154
• Honda Katsuichi: Villages in the Battlefield—The Vietnam War and the People, 159
• Kawata Tadashi: Economic Implications of Nuclear Armament, 180
• Nogami Tadashi: Return From Peking, 187
• Ibuse Masuji: Black Rain (5) (A Novel. Translated by John Bester), 194
• G.F. Hudson: When the Earth Cracks, 224
• Gordon T. Bowles: Culturalism or Nationalism? 226
• J.R. McEwan: Four Chinese Poems From the Tokugawa Period, 231
• Usami Shô: Zengakuren, 233
• From the Editorials, 245

Volume 15, Number 3 (July–September 1968)
• Trends and Topics
Asian Development Symposium, 283
The Racial Problem in Japan, 286
Steel Oligopoly, 290
Okinawa: Military Workers' Strike, 294
• Mori Kyôzô: Judgments of Paris, 298
• Muramoto Shûzô: Japan and the International Monetary Crisis, 301
• Hatano Hirokazu: Sino-Japanese Relations Today, 309
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Abodes of the Gods, 316
• Kida Minoru: Buraku in Japan, 323
• Ibuse Masuji: Black Rain (6) (A Novel. Translated by John Bester), 330
• Christopher Bartlett: The Japanese Mirror, 360
• Mervyn Brock: A Proper Study of Mankind, 364
• Fukutake Tadashi: Fall in the Farming Population, 367

• From the Editorials, 373
Volume 15, Number 4 (October–December 1968)
• Trends and Topics
Japanese Aid to Indonesia, 411
The House of Councilors' Election, 414
Who's Afraid of the Bad Big Three? 417
• Gotô Motoo: Crisis in Japan-U.S. Relations, 421
• Tsurumi Kazuko: The Japanese Student Movement: (1) Its Milieu, 430
• Maeda Hisashi: The Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty, 456
• Kawai Shin: Return of the Ogasawara Islands, 462
• Sakazaki Tarô: Hôryûji Reborn, 466
• Kida Minoru: Buraku in Japan (2), 472
• Umezaki Haruo: "A Round in Three Parts" (A Short Story. Translated by Clifton Royston), 481
• Edward Seidensticker: Travellers From Japan, 489
• James Kirkup: The Sounds of Zen, 494
• From the Editorials, 498

Volume 16, Number 1 (January–March 1969)
• Trends and Topics
Plus Ça Change... , 3
Okinawa's Reformist Chief Executive, 7
Satô Elected to Third Term, 11
International Symposium on Asian Economic Development and Co-operation, 15
• Tsurumi Kazuko: The Japanese Student Movement: (2) Group Portraits, 25
• Kurai Ryôzô: Chinese Puzzle, 45
• Tsuchiya Rokurô: Agricultural Changes, 53
• Ôoka Shôhei: World View of Japanese Literature, 61
• Kida Minoru: Buraku in Japan (3), 64
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Patterns of Kofun Culture, 71
• Umezaki Haruo: "The Birthmark on S's Back" (A Short Story. Translated by Clifton Royston), 78
• Robert S. Ozaki: How to Pay Rent in Tokyo, 93
• Vivienne Kenrick: Metropolitan Pastoral, 95
• From the Editorials, 97
Volume 16, Number 2 (April–June 1969)
• Trends and Topics
Bank Merger, 135
Okinawan Turmoil, 139
The New Gallery of Eastern Antiquities, 144
• Fukashiro Junrô: Student Thought and Feeling, 148
• The Asahi Shimbun Public Opinion Surveys: University Strife, 157
• Maruyama Shizuo: A New World in Southeast Asia, 170
• Kida Minoru: Buraku in Japan (4), 180
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Meditating Buddha, 188
• Dazai Osamu: "A Sound of Hammering" (A Short Story. Translated by Frank T. Motofuji), 194
• John Pilcher: A Change of Mood? 203

• Rowland Gould: The Third Civilization Society, 207
• Thomas Harper and Michelle Press: "A Day in the Life Is a Leaf in the History", 211
• From the Editorials, 215

Volume 16, Number 3 (July–September 1969)

• Trends and Topics
Liberal-Democratic Policy Toward Universities, 257
Environmental Pollution in Japan, 261
Japanese-ness, 264
• Ôno Osamu: Minobe to the Rescue, 268
• Kuwata Kôichirô: Things That Are Caesar's, 276
• Nogami Tadashi: The Ninth Congress, 286
• Benito Ortolani: Iemoto, 297
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Esoteric Buddhism, 307
• Natsume Sôseki: "Ten Nights of Dream" (A Short Story. Translated by Itô Aiko and Graeme Wilson), 314
• Hagiwara Sakutarô: Insects, 330
• Beatrice M. Bodart: The Riddle of the Stone Lantern, 332
• Gregory Campbell: Animal Crackers, 335
• Kunimoto Yoshirô: Siberian Prospect, 337
• From the Editorials, 344

Volume 16, Number 4 (October–December 1969)

• Trends and Topics
Tokyo Metropolitan Assembly Election, 375
Three Years on a Stone, 379
Leukemia and the Bomb, 382
• Gotô Motoo: Japan in Asia, 387
• Tsuchiya Rokurô: A Watched Pot, 397
• Sasayama Yutaka: Japan's Lagging Standard of Living, 406
• D. Lee Rich: Young Artists in an Old Art Form, 412
• Kita Morio: "Birth" and "On the Rock Ridge" (Short Stories. Translated by Clifton Royston), 414
• Michelle Press: Adam and Eve as Nô, 431
• Ôi Michio: The Tôkai Nature Trail, 438
• With It, 443
• Tsurumi Yoshiyuki: Beheiren, 444
• From the Editorials, 449

Volume 17, Number 1 (January–March 1970)

• Trends and Topics
A New Age in Japan-U.S. Security Ties, 3
The Price Problem, 6
Home Facsimile Newspapers, 10
The Population Pattern, 14
• Ômori Shigeo: Japan's Northern Territories, 18
• Fukashiro Junrô: The New Left, 27
• Kim Sam-kyu: The Korean Question, 37
• Maruyama Shizuo: The International Symposium on Economic Co-operation, 45
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Representations of Raigô in Buddhist Art, 51

• Matsuo Bashô: Saga Nikki (Translated by G. Campbell), 58
• Atsumi Ikuko and Graeme Wilson: The Poetry of Anzai Hitoshi, 65
• John Curtis Perry: Victorian Globe-Trotters in Japan, 72
• J.E. Solomon: On a Magic Carpet With Dual Exhausts, 75
• Kunimoto Yoshirô: EXPO '70, 79
• With It, 84
• From the Editorials, 85

Volume 17, Number 2 (April–June 1970)

• Trends and Topics
Sino-Japanese Trade, 119
Mr. Yara Reaps a Whirlwind, 122
Automobile Accidents in Japan, 127
• Mori Kyôzô: Civilizations Engulfed in Crisis, 131
• Kuwata Kôichirô: Political Parties in the Next Decade, 139
• Matsumoto Tomonori: Finance Moves In on Politics, 149
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Zen Art, 160
• Ôe Kenzaburô: "Sheep" (A Short Story. Translated by Frank T. Motofuji), 167
• James R. Nichols: The Tale of Genji: A Novel of Manners, 1020 A.D., 178
• Yoshida Kazuo: At a Market, 182
• Graeme Wilson: The Korean Sijo, 183
• Fanny Hagin Mayer: Even a Mudsnail, 191
• Ann King Herring: Death of a Theatre, 194
• With It, 200
• From the Editorials, 201

Volume 17, Number 3 (July–September 1970)

• Trends and Topics
Publish and Be Damned, 241
Gordian Knot, 244
As the Twig Is Bent, 248
• Hatano Hirokazu: Hawks in the China Shop, 253
• Tsuji Ken: Labor, 261
• James Kirkup: A Sense of Occasion, 272
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Shintô Art, 276
• Dazai Osamu: "Metamorphosis" (A Short Story. Translated by T.J. Harper), 285
• Michelle Press: Adam and Eve as Bunraku, 289
• Takagi Kyôzô: The Winter Moon (Poems. Translated by Nakano Michio and James Kirkup), 301
• Sydney Crawcour: Japanese in Thirty Years, 308
• Gregory Campbell: Selections From Kyorai-shô, 311
• With It, 321
• From the Editorials, 322

Volume 17, Number 4 (October–December 1970)

• Trends and Topics
The International Orphan, 361
Nerve Gas, 365
Land of Asuka, 369
• Nakayama Ichirô: Future of the Economy, 375
• Ômori Shigeo: June 1970, 383
• Tsuchiya Rokurô: After the Textile Talks, 393

• Kobayashi Setsuo: Environmental Pollution, 400
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Treasures in the Shôsô-in, 408
• Natsume Sôseki: I Am a Cat (1) (A Novel. Translated by Itô Aiko and Graeme Wilson), 421
• Han Suyin: Family Planning in China, 433
• Kunimoto Yoshirô: Rural Communities of Northeastern Japan, 443
• Ivan Morris: Mind Your Language! 453
• M.B. Sheridan: Symbolist Aspects of the Nô, 456
• Geoffrey Bownas: From 3P's via 3C's to 3V's, 463
• With It, 467
• From the Editorials, 468

Volume 18, Number 1 (January–March 1971)
• Trends and Topics
Revaluation of the Yen, 3
To Govern Tokyo, 8
Nôkyô at the Crossroads, 14
• Kitani Tadashi: Cool It, 18
• Imazu Hiroshi: Satô's Fourth Term, 24
• Yoshida Makoto: How We Look to Southeast Asia, 32
• Natsume Sôseki: I Am a Cat (2) (A Novel. Translated by Itô Aiko and Graeme Wilson), 39
• Atsumi Ikuko and Graeme Wilson: The Poetry of Tanikawa Shuntarô, 76
• With It, 85
• Anthony Chambers: The Nihon Kindai Bungakkan, 86
• Richard P. Leavitt: The Wind Blows Where It Will, 88
• From the Editorials, 93

Volume 18, Number 2 (April–June 1971)
• Trends and Topics
Protest in Okinawa, 133
Post-Mortem, 137
Geriatrics in Japan, 141
The Hiroshima Declaration, 144
• Matsumoto Shun'ichi: Our Neighbor China, 148
• Shinohara Hiroshi: National Defense, 155
• Kunimoto Yoshirô: Pollution and Local Government, 162
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Yamato-e, 168
• Natsume Sôseki: I Am a Cat (3) (A Novel. Translated by Itô Aiko and Graeme Wilson), 177
• Edwin A. Cranston: Murasaki's "Art of Fiction", 207
• Kamon Yasuo: A Single Painting, 214
• Couverneur Mosher: Why Katakana? 217
• Susan Victoria Chambers: The Art of Katazomé, 219
• From the Editorials, 223

Volume 18, Number 3 (July–September 1971)
• Trends and Topics
People's Diplomacy, 257
Indices of National Welfare, 260
Their Exits and Their Entrances, 263

• Maruyama Shizuo: The Nixon Doctrine and Ping-Pong Diplomacy, 266
• Kuwata Kôichirô: Lessons of the General Local Elections, 273
• Miyoshi Shûichi: Japan's Resources Policy at a Turning-Point, 281
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Composition in the Paintings of Sesshû, 288
• Ishimure Michiko: "Pure Land Poisoned Sea" (A Short Story. Translated by James Kirkup and Nakano Michio), 299
• Atsumi Ikuko and Graeme Wilson: The Poetry of Murô Saisei, 307
• Takeuchi Minoru: The Background of Chinese Studies in Japan, 316
• Andrew Horvat: On the Uses of Useless Words, 324
• Bardwell L. Smith: Sitting Quietly, Doing Nothing, 327
• Leonard Pronko: What Is Wrong With Kabuki? 330
• From the Editorials, 334

Volume 18, Number 4 (October–December 1971)

• Trends and Topics
  Slippery Slope, 375
  Business Potentials in China, 380
  Big Business Compensates the Little Man, 383
  The Five-Day Week, 387
• Mori Kyôzô: When the Cold War Ends, 392
• Nagai Michio: UN International University in a Changing World, 402
• Hirose Michisada: Okinawan Disappointment, 408
• Tanaka Sen'ô: Aesthetic Background to the Tea Ceremony, 414
• Ariyoshi Sawako: "The Village of Eguchi" (A Short Story. Translated by Suwa Yukio and Herbert Glazer), 427
• Tanaka Hiroshi: Foreign Students in Japan, 443
• T.J. Pempel: Evaluating Japan's Mass Higher Education, 449
• Sugimura Takeshi: A Solitary Sprinter, 455
• Ann King Herring: Read, Mark, Learn, 459
• Fanny Hagin Mayer: The Devoted Fox-Wife, 463
• From the Editorials, 467

Volume 19, Number 1 (January–March 1972)

• Trends and Topics
  Deserted Villages: Crammed Towns, 3
  Nature Conservation, 7
  Education Animal, 10
  Korean Red Cross Talks, 14
• Obata Misao: A New Course for Japan, 19
• Miyoshi Shûichi: Dollar Crisis, 28
• Katô Hidetoshi: Weltanschauung, 36
• Ogawa Masataka: Frontiers of Contemporary Japanese Art: Sugaï Kumi, 41
• Abe Kôbô: "The Dog" and "The Dream Soldier" (Short Stories. Translated by Andrew Horvat), 51
• Graeme Wilson: Mosaic Lore, 63
• Kaneko Tôta: Ancient Facets of Modern Haiku, 68
• Rowland Gould: Japan Alone, 70
• Kunimoto Yoshirô: The Fisherfolk of the North, 73
• Barbara Wolf: Detectives and Doctors, 83
• From the Editorials, 88

Volume 19, Number 2 (April–June 1972)

• Trends and Topics
Tokyo's Garbage War, 125
Films: Phoenix or Flop? 129
Militarism? No! 132
• Nagasu Kazuji: Japanese Economy in the Seventies, 140
• Kishida Junnosuke: Ideas on Disarmament, 148
• Tominomori Eiji: Satô's Legacy, 154
• Ogawa Masataka: Frontiers of Contemporary Japanese Art II: Ikeda Masuo, 160
• Graeme Wilson: Some Longer Poems of Hagiwara Sakutarô, 170
• Ôe Kenzaburô: "Teach Us to Outgrow Our Madness" (A Novel. Translated by John Nathan), 182
• Tadokoro Tarô: What We're Reading Now, 205
• Leon Hollerman: Changes in Japanese Small Business, 211
• Sakai Denroku: Switch Off, 218
• Shiraishi Kazuko: Orient in Me, 221
• From the Editorials, 224

Volume 19, Number 3 (July–September 1972)

• Trends and Topics
Secret? 253
Embarras de Richesse, 257
Labor Problems, 260
When Will They Ever Learn? 264
• Sakamoto Yoshikazu: A New Foreign Policy, 270
• Ui Jun: The Singularities of Japanese Pollution, 281
• Danno Nobuo: The Changing Face of Agriculture, 292
• Imazu Hiroshi: Sacrificial Lamb, 301
• Ogawa Masataka: Frontiers of Contemporary Japanese Art III: Maki Fumihiko, 311
• Natsume Sôseki: "Hearing Things" (A Short Story. Translated by Itô Aiko and Graeme Wilson), 317
• Benjamin C. Duke: The Textbook Controversy, 337
• From the Editorials, 353

Volume 19, Number 4 (October–December 1972)

• Trends and Topics
Making Friends and Influencing People, 387
A Whale of a Problem, 391
No More Cramming! 395
Red Jubilee, 399
• Ômori Shigeo: Two Tasks for Tanaka, 403
• Kim Sam Kyu: Peaceful Unification of Korea, 415
• Kawata Tadashi: Japan's Responsibility for Economic Co-operation, 422
• Yamada Keiji: Three Paradoxes of Science and Technology, 430
• Ogawa Masataka: Frontiers of Contemporary Japanese Art IV: Nagare Masayuki, 436
• Yoshiyuki Jun'nosuke: "Sudden Shower" (A Short Story. Translated by Geoffrey Bownas), 446
• Graeme Wilson and Atsumi Ikuko: The Poetry of Yamamura Bochô, 458
• Nakaya Ken'ichi: Japanese Studies, 467
• From the Editorials, 472

Volume 20, Number 1 (January–March 1973)
• Trends and Topics
Base Crisis, 3
Retirement Age, 7
Youth at the Prow, 12
Treasures of the Tomb, 14
• Miki Takeo: Future Japanese Diplomacy, 20
• Shiraishi Bon: Japan's New Departure, 25
• Saitô Yoshifumi: The New Situation in Asia, 30
• Hoshino Yoshirô: Remodeling the Archipelago, 39
• Natsume Sôseki: "The Heredity of Taste" (A Short Story. Translated by Itô Aiko and Graeme Wilson), 46
• Irokawa Daikichi: Japan's Grass-Roots Tradition: Current Issues in the Mirror of History, 78
• Kunimoto Yoshirô: Deserted Mountain Villages of Western Japan, 87
• From the Editorials, 97
Volume 20, Number 2 (April–June 1973)
• Trends and Topics
Improved Pensions, 127
Examination Hell, 131
Muscular Cramp, 135
Asian Population Explosion, 138
• Kuno Osamu: The Vietnam War and Japan, 143
• Maruyama Shizuo: The Vietnam War—An Evaluation, 151
• Kuwata Kôichirô: Governing Patterns, 159
• Miyazaki Yoshikazu: Speculation Economy, 168
• Kishida Jun'nosuke: New Problems of Advanced Societies, 176
• Joseph Love: The Radical Artist and the Print, 183
• Yokomitsu Riichi: "Ideas of a Flower Garden" (A Short Story. Translated by Dennis Keene), 193
• Hibino Kazuyuki: Tokyo: The Overcrowded Megalopolis, 203
• Christopher Bartlett: The Foreign Tail, 213
• From the Editorials, 217
Volume 20, Number 3 (July–September 1973)
• Trends and Topics
Okinawa: The First Year, 247
Pollution Case Law, 251
Consumerism, 255
• Mushakôji Kinhide: In Search of a New Diplomacy, 259
• Kaji Motoo: Japan-U.S. Economic Relations, 268
• Nagai Michio: Cultural Interchange: Japan and Asia, 275
• Makita Shigeru: World Authority on Folklore: Yanagita Kunio, 283
• Naka Kansuke: "The Silver Spoon" (A Novel. Translated by James Kirkup and Nakano Michio), 294
• Atsumi Ikuko and Graeme Wilson: The Poetry of Takamura Kôtarô, 308
• Nakazono Eisuke: Lotus Prize, 319
• Ogawa Masataka: Graphic Design, 324
• From the Editorials, 332
Volume 20, Number 4 (October–December 1973)

• Trends and Topics
Tanaka-Nixon Talks, 363
Citizens Movements, 368
Fisheries and Industrial Pollution, 373
Peace Research, 377
• Nakayama Ichirô: Growth and Inflation, 382
• Seki Hiroharu: Which Way in Southeast Asia? 388
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: The Rising Tide of Reformist Forces, 397
• Takeda Jun: Japanese Trading Companies, 407
• Ôe Kenzaburô: A Game of Football (A Novel. Translated by John Bester), 414
• Ogawa Masataka: Trends in Modern Japanese Sculpture, 430
• Ariyoshi Kôji: Nisei in Hawaii, 437
• Pointers, 447

Volume 21, Number 1 (January–March 1974)
• Trends and Topics
Strain on the Constitution, 3
Second Stage of Sino-Japanese Relations, 6
Tokyo Conference of the Club of Rome, 10
Guarding Our Heritage, 14
• Ebata Kiyoshi: An Original Economy, 19
• Katô Shûichi: Reconstruction of the Japanese Group, 28
• Maruyama Shizuo: Asian Status, 36
• Ôe Kenzaburô: A Game of Football (2) (A Novel. Translated by John Bester), 45
• Mizuo Hiroshi: Okinawan Pottery, 58
• Pointers: The Child Is Father to the Man, 68
• Kunimoto Yoshirô: Cattle Say Nothing, 71
• Perry L. Pickert: The Foreign Policy of Japan Inc., 79

Volume 21, Number 2 (April–June 1974)
• Trends and Topics
Stringent Budget, 123
Labor Unions Under Abnormal Inflation, 127
Automobile Society, 131
• Sakamoto Yoshikazu: Some Keys to Peace, 135
• Miyoshi Shûichi: Oil Shock, 143
• Etô Jun: Japanese Youth: Their Fears and Anxieties, 152
• Nogami Tadashi: The Korean Caper, 160
• Ôe Kenzaburô: A Game of Football (3) (A Novel. Translated by John Bester), 168
• Atsumi Ikuko and Graeme Wilson: The Poetry of Yosano Akiko, 181
• Paul Novograd: Rakugo: The Storyteller's Art, 188
• Pointers, 197

Volume 21, Number 3 (July–September 1974)
• Trends and Topics
Civilian Wartime Records, 225
Ainu Rights, 227
Shinjuku, 231
• Nishikawa Jun: Japan and the North-South Problem, 237
• Kuwata Kôichirô: Discord Among Conservatives, 249
• Hayashi Risuke: Where Do We Go From Here? 258

• Lydia N. Yu: The Japan Communist Party, 265
• Ichii Saburô: On Tradition and Innovation, 273
• Takagi Kyôzô: "The Old Women's Hut" (A Short Story. Translated by James Kirkup and Nakano Michio), 284
• Pointers, 291

Volume 21, Number 4 (October–December 1974)

• Trends and Topics
Whether or Not to Ratify, 323
The Penal Code, 326
Nikkyôso, 329
• Imazu Hiroshi: Conservative Crisis, 333
• Iinuma Jirô: The Curious Crisis in Japanese Agriculture, 341
• Tamaki Motoi: Close But Distant Neighbors, 349
• C.V. Devan Nair: Developing Countries in Asia and Foreign Investment, 356
• Natsume Sôseki: I Am a Cat (4) (A Novel. Translated by Itô Aiko and Graeme Wilson), 365
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Kiyomizu Kyûbei and Shima Kuniichi, 387
• Pointers, 391

Volume 22, Number 1 (January–March 1975)

• Trends and Topics
The Mutsu, 3
Shuntô, 6
Big Business Electioneering, 8
• Seki Hiroharu: Nuclear Proliferation and Our Option, 13
• Kawamura Kinji: Transforming Japan-U.S. Relations, 22
• Watanabe Osamu: On Returning From Southeast Asia, 27
• Matsui Yayori: Protest and the Japanese Woman, 32
• Ariyoshi Sawako: "Jiuta" (A Short Story. Translated by Suwa Yukio and Herbert Glazer), 40
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Mio Kôzô and Itô Takamichi, 59
• Pointers, 63

Volume 22, Number 2 (April–June 1975)

• Trends and Topics
Exhaust Gas Control, 93
Shadows of Unemployment, 95
Opinion Polls and Politics, 99
The New Left, 104
• Miyazaki Yoshikazu: The Significance of Global Inflation, 108
• Mori Kyôzô: Freedom of the Press and Asia, 119
• Arima Sumisato: The Emergence of Prime Minister Miki Takeo, 126
• Abe Kôbô: "The Frontier Within" (1) (A Critical Essay. Translated by Andrew Horvat), 135
• Shiga Naoya: "The Bonfire" (A Short Story. Translated by Dennis Keene), 144
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Shinoda Morio and Matsumoto Akira, 153
• Pointers, 155

Volume 22, Number 3 (July–September 1975)

• Trends and Topics
Tokyo's "Reformist Torchlight", 183
The Burakumin, 187
University Education in Trouble, 190
• Takabatake Michitoshi: The Local Elections in 1975, 194
• Maruyama Shizuo: America's Logic and Vietnam's Logic, 205
• Mushakôji Kinhide: Transnationalize Citizens' Diplomacy, 214
• Tsurumi Kazuko: Yanagita Kunio's Work as a Model of Endogenous Development, 223
• Ronald Morse: Personalities and Issues in Yanagita Kunio Studies, 239
• Abe Kôbô: "The Frontier Within" (2) (A Critical Essay. Translated by Andrew Horvat), 255
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Fujita Yoshika and Yasuda Haruhiko, 268
• Pointers, 272

Volume 22, Number 4 (October–December 1975)
• Trends and Topics
Gentle Growth for Japan's Economy, 301
The Socialist and Communist Parties Lock Horns, 304
Attitudes on Nuclear Arms and Peace Research, 308
• Sodei Rinjirô: What the Vietnam War Means to Us, 314
• Yamamoto Mitsuru: "Resources Diplomacy" Runs Into a Stone Wall, 318
• Kunimoto Yoshirô: Okinawans—A Minority, 327
• Otis Cary: The Sparing of Kyoto—Mr. Stimson's "Pet City", 337
• Ariyoshi Sawako: "The Ink Stick" (A Short Story. Translated by Mildred Tahara), 348
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Yanagihara Yoshitatsu and Takayama Tatsuo, 370
• Pointers, 375

Volume 23, Number 1 (January–March 1976)
• Trends and Topics
Pollution Irresponsibility, 3
The Shôsei Maru Incident, 6
Defense Issue Comes Up for Debate Again, 9
• Ono Setsuko: Fragile Blossom, Fragile Superpower—A New Interpretation? 12
• Kano Masanao: The Changing Concept of Modernization, 28
• Ui Jun: A Critique of Industrialization, 36
• Miwa Kimitada: Toward a Rediscovery of Localism, 44
• Tominomori Eiji: Stability of the Conservative Régime, 53
• Hori Tatsuo: "The Holy Family" (A Short Story. Translated by Terasaki Etsuko), 60
• Nada Inada: Through a Glass Window, 70
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Oka Shikanosuke and Wakita Kazu, 75

Volume 23, Number 2 (April–June 1976)
• Trends and Topics
Lockheed Scandal: Multinational Bribery and Japan, 109
"The Anatomy of Tanaka Kakuei", 112
The Strike for the Right to Strike, 116
• Suzuki Sunao: The Declining Role of Ideology in Citizens' Movements, 121

• Tsurumi Yoshiyuki: The Japanese Movement and Asia, 127
• Maki Shôhei: The Postwar Consumer Movement, 135
• Igeta Takeshi: Righteous Wrath of Residents' Revolts, 140
• Miyazaki Isamu: Learning to Live With Slower Growth, 143
• Shimizu Tei: The Cultivators of a Dream, 154
• Nada Inada: Through a Glass Window, 163
• Yamamoto Shûgorô: "He Who Laughs Last" (A Short Story. Translated by James Kirkup and Nakano Michio), 165
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Asô Saburô and Ikeda Masuo, 183

Volume 23, Number 3 (July–September 1976)

• Trends and Topics
Japan's Peculiar Land Problem, 217
Deepening Disaffection Toward Political Parties, 220
The Merciless Horse Races, 224
• Imazu Hiroshi: Power Mosaic: Hotbed of the Lockheed Case, 228
• Hanzawa Hiroshi: Two Right-Wing Bosses: A Comparison of Sugiyama and Kodama, 238
• Ishikawa Hirotomo: The Hidden Hand—Multinational Corporations, 247
• Suzuki Takao: Language and Behavior in Japan, 255
• Nosaka Akiyuki: The Honor of a Guilty Verdict: Reflection on the Yojôban Obscenity Trial, 267
• Nada Inada: Through a Glass Window, 272
• Kaneko Mitsuharu: Poems (Translated by Takagi Keiko), 275
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Maeda Jôsaku and Ay-O, 285

Volume 23, Number 4 (October–December 1976)

• Trends and Topics
Two-Pillared University Education, 325
No Frontier for Agriculture, 328
International Opposition to Oil Port Pacific, 331
• Japanese Women Today
Kondaibô Mie: A Search for New Directions, 336
Kobayashi Hatsue: Grandmother, Mother and Myself, 340
Yamaguchi Fumiko: Crossing Over This Sea, 357
Shiozawa Miyoko and Shimada Tomiko: Documentary on Postwar Women Living Alone, 363
• Hatakeyama Takeshi: One-Party Rule in Japan Nears Its End, 378
• Nada Inada: Speaking of Yardsticks, 385
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Kiyomizu Kyûbei and Mogami Hisayuki, 390

Volume 24, Number 1 (January–March 1977)

• Trends and Topics
Tokyo-Moscow Ties Tense, 3
Longer Employment With Pay Freeze After 40, 8
The Aftermath of the Lockheed Scandal, 12
• Miyazaki Yoshikazu: The Changing Nature of Japanese Corporations, 16
• Imai Ken'ichi: Industrial Organizations and the Environment, 26
• Sugioka Sekio: Big Economic Power With Isolated Culture, 38
• Shiratori Rei: Conservative Rule in Japan Self-Destructs, 44

• Nada Inada: The Dogs and Culture, 54
• Yoshida Tomoko: "The Long Night of Illusion" (A Novel. Translated by Harvey Eiko and James Kirkup), 57
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Sugai Kumi and Saitô Yoshishige, 97
Volume 24, Number 2 (April–June 1977)
• Trends and Topics
Fukuda Régime As It Is, 135
Japan's Second Battle of Midway, 139
"Sports Animals", 142
• Arima Sumisato and Imazu Hiroshi: The Opposition Parties: Organization and Policies, 148
The Japan Socialist Party, 149
The Japan Communist Party, 156
The Democratic Socialist Party, 163
Kômeitô, 166
The New Liberal Club, 169
The Current Political Picture, 172
• Shinohara Hajime: The Opposition Party System, 175
• Nada Inada: The Land of Advice Addicts, 181
• Kaikô Takeshi: "The Naked King" (A Novel. Translated by Howard Curtis), 185
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Itô Takamichi and Wakita Aijirô, 226
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 231
Volume 24, Number 3 (July–September 1977)
• Trends and Topics
Political Climate Changing, 261
Government Rushes to Open New Airport, 268
Carter's Nuclear Policy and Japan's Position, 272
• Kawata Tadashi: Development of Peace Research in Japan, 277
• Seki Hiroharu: Politics of Peace, 290
• Fukase Tadakazu: The Self-Defense Forces Under the Peace Constitution, 297
• David Satterwhite: "Peace Research in Japan"—Prelude to Praxis, 302
• Nagai Michio: Higher Education in a Free Society: Institutional Autonomy and Government Planning, 306
• Nada Inada: Just a Little Difference, 314
• Furui Yoshikichi: "Wedlock" (A Novel. Translated by Howard Hibbett), 317
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Hamaguchi Yôzô and Takahashi Shû, 348
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 353
Volume 24, Number 4 (October–December 1977)
• Trends and Topics
What to Do About the Expensive Yen? 385
Concern Over Revival of State Shintôism, 389
Continental Shelf Development, 394
Pension Bonanza for Civil Servants, 397
• Higuchi Kiyoyuki: Japan—The Terminus of Asia, 401
• Watanabe Manabu: The Concept of Sadae Kyorin in Korea, 411
• Fujimura Michio: Japan's Changing View of Asia, 423
• Nada Inada: An Age of Useless Information, 432
• Shibata Michiko: "A Ray of Light" (A Literary Essay. Translated by Lora Sharnoff), 435

• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Mio Kôzô and Seimiya Naobumi, 465
• John Curtis Perry: The Architecture of Modernization in Meiji Japan, 467
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 480

Volume 25, Number 1 (January–March 1978)
• Trends and Topics
Increasing Opposition Party Polarization, 3
Hijacking by Japan's Red Army, 8
• Nagai Susumu: Going Ahead With Atomic Power—A Dangerous Choice, 12
• Harada Masazumi: Minamata Disease as a Social and Medical Problem, 20
• Takada Teruo: Noise Pollution on Trial: The Case of Osaka International Airport, 35
• Kihara Keikichi: Coastline Conservation—Establishment of Common Tideland Use Rights, 43
• Hanayama Yuzuru: CTS at Palau—Exporting Pollution? 51
• Iijima Nobuko: English-Language Publications about Pollution in Japan, 63
• Sasayama Yutaka: Ishimune Michiko, 69
• Ui Jun: Aileen Smith, 71
• Inoue Hisashi: Boon and Pboon (1) (A Novel. Translated by Roger Pulvers), 73
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Tada Minami and Mochizuki Kikuma, 108
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 113
Volume 25, Number 2 (April–June 1978)
• Trends and Topics
Thorn in Japan-ROK Ties, 141
Asukata's Socialist Party, 145
Unique Aspects of Medicare in Japan, 148
• Shioda Nagahide: The Sôgô Shôsha at the Turning Point, 152
• Ôki Yasuo: Inside View of the Sôgô Shôsha, 161
• Hasegawa Hiroshi: A Drama of Ataka & Co's Collapse, 169
• Rene Lebowitz: Ushiba Nobuhiko, 178
• Inoue Hisashi: Boon and Pboon (2) (A Novel. Translated by Roger Pulvers), 181
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Nagare Masayuki and Azuma Kenjirô, 212
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 225
Volume 25, Number 3 (July–September 1978)
• Trends and Topics
Narita: Trouble-Ridden Airport, 251
Changing of Helms in Kyoto and Yokohama, 255
The Idols of Young Men, 260
• Yuize Yasuhiko: Truth About Japanese Agriculture
The Affluent Rice-Producer's Dilemma, 264
Agricultural Imports at the Crossroads, 270
Food Production of an Overpopulated Nation, 277
Agonies of Agricultural Administration, 287
• Waseda Minoru: Fujita Saburô, 298
• Yamaji Susumu: Takemoto Heiichi, 300
• Iwasaki Akira: The Occupied Screen, 302
• Ôba Minako: The Three Crabs (A Novel. Translated by Stephen Kohl and Toyama Ryôko), 323

• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Dômoto Hisao and Yoshikawa Shizuko, 342
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 357
Volume 25, Number 4 (October–December 1978)
• Trends and Topics
The Yen-Dollar Entanglement, 383
Relief Measures for Corporate Castle Towns, 389
The Rise of the New Collectors, 392
The Marathon Craze, 395
• Fukushima Shingo: Japan's Wavering Defense Plan, 399
• Tomiyama Kazuo: The Future of the Defense-Related Industries, 407
• Sakanaka Tomohisa: Japan's Military Capability: Present and Future, 413
• Murakami Kaoru: Kurisu Hiroomi/ Kubo Takuya, 422
• Funabashi Yôichi: Sakurada Takeshi, 426
• Ôno Susumu: The Linguistic World of Japanese, 429
• Ôki Ryûji: The Japanese Language—It Is Not Difficult at All, 439
• Nosaka Akiyuki: A Grave of Fireflies (A Novel. Translated by James R. Abrams), 445
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Shinoda Morio and Yasuda Haruhiko, 467
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 478
• Nakazawa Keiji: Barefoot Gen (Cartoon, excerpts), 484

Volume 26, Number 1 (January–March 1979)
• Trends and Topics
Gengô: The Big Debate, 3
Snowballing National Bond Issues, 6
Loan Sharks: A By-product of Economic Upsurge, 11
The Rise of the Median Companies, 14
• Tagawa Seiichi: "Don't Forget the Well-Diggers", 18
• Shiranishi Shin'ichirô: The Potential for Economic Cooperation, 35
• Murase Shun'ichi: Sonoda Sunao, 46
• Kubo Akira: Inayama Yoshihiro, 48
• Hidaka Rokurô: Adults Are Losing Self-Confidence, 53
• Tanaka Yoshirô: The Plight of the Elderly, 63
• Tokumoto Mitsumasa: The Morose Children, 75
• Genji Keita: A Billionaire (A Novel. Translated by Inoue Mihoko and Eileen B. Hennessy), 85
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Yamaguchi Makio and Matsuo Mitsunobu, 107
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 124
Volume 26, Number 2 (April–June 1979)
• Trends and Topics
Sufferings of Japan's Multinational Corporations, 147
The Rice Surpluses of a Leading Grain Importer, 153
Chinese Foreign Policy Toward Japan and U.S., 158
The Glory and Fall of the Pink Lady, 161
• Imazu Hiroshi: The Political Structure of LDP Rule, 166
• Satô Sadayuki: The Economic Foundations of the Conservative Resurgence, 180

• Kôda Toshihiko: The Conflicting Philosophies of Gain and Abundance in My Hometown, 188
• Akiyama Kôtarô: Ôhira Masayoshi, 199
• Ômori Kazuo: Tanaka Kakuei, 201
• Swadesh R. De Roy: A One-Class Society? 204
• Pauline M. Bush: To Japan—With Love and Concern, 212
• Khoontong Intarathai: Japan's Development: From the Viewpoint of the Southeast Asian, 219
• William R. Carter: What Can Japan Do for World Peace? 230
• Bamba Tomoko: The Office Ladies' Paradise: Inside and Out, 241
• Shôji Kaoru: "The Man Who Tore Butterflies" (A Short Story. Translated by Maryellen Toman Mori), 248
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Nakano Hirohiko and Tabuchi Toshio, 263
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 274

Volume 26, Number 3 (July–September 1979)

• Trends and Topics
  Aircraft Payoff Scandal, 295
  Tokyo's Money Woes, 297
  Children Taking Own Lives, 301
• Sugiyama Jirô: A Creative Look at Aspects of Prehistory, 304
• Umehara Takeshi: Prince Shôtoku—Ancient Internationalist, 318
• Ueyama Shumpei: Fujiwara Fuhito—A Buried Colossus, 330
• Tamura Kôsuke: Dr. Suenaga Masao, 339
• Nishimura Isamu: Dr. Kishi Toshio, 341
• Amano Michie: The Secret of a Kabuki Actor's Success, 344
• Komuro Kayoko: TV Dramas and Their Hold on the Japanese Mind, 353
• Tagawa Tadasu: Artistically Impoverished Popular Music, 359
• Watanabe Jun'ichi: Light and Shadow (1) (A Novel. Translated by Edward Putzar), 365
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Okumura Togyû, 387
• Ôsaki Norio: The Chichibu Pilgrimage, 391
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 414

Volume 26, Number 4 (October–December 1979)

• Trends and Topics
  The Ghost Lives On, 441
  Eating-Out Industry Growing Rapidly, 444
  Foreign Teachers at Japanese Universities, 447
  HEIB—A New Strategy in Business, 451
• Suzuki Sunao: "After the Banquet", 455
• Miyoshi Shûichi: Mutual Dependence in the Castle Built on Oil, 462
• Hara Yasushi: Japan-U.S. Economic Friction, 473
• Hakoshima Shin'ichi: Japan-EC Economic Disputes, 481
• Declaration: Tokyo Summit Conference, 488
• American Chamber of Commerce in Japan: United States-Japan Trade White Paper, 491
• Kubota Yasutaka: Dokô Toshio, 500
• Miura Akihiko: Iwasa Yoshizane, 501
• Otis Cary: Atomic Bomb Targeting—Myths and Realities, 506
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Tsuruoka Masao and Watanabe Junzô, 517

• Watanabe Jun'ichi: Light and Shadow (2) (A Novel. Translated by Edward Putzar), 521
• Hikida Keiichirô: Snow and "Ramie Crêpe", 539
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 560

Volume 27, Number 1 (January–March 1980)
• Trends and Topics
The Final Days of Conservative Rule, 3
Reconciling the People to an Increase in Taxes, 7
Strategic Significance of the Northern Island Territories, 11
• Tsuru Shigeto: The Energy Prospect for Japan, 15
• Matsushita Keiichi: A New Liberalism in Prospect, 20
• Furuya Ken'ichi: Labor-Management Relations in Postwar Japan, 29
• Tanaka Hirohide: Low Growth and Aging Labor Force, 39
• Kôshiro Kazutoshi: Perceptions of Work and Living Attitudes of the Japanese, 46
• Yoshida Hirobumi: Komatsu Hiroshi, 56
• Fujii Shôzô: Tateyama Toshibumi, 58
• The Asahi Shimbun's Economic Staff: Unique Enterprises, 60
• Tokumoto Mitsumasa: Homes of Pottery, 75
• Tsumura Setsuko: Playthings (A Novel. Translated by Kyoko Evanhoe and Robert N. Lawson), 87
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Tanaka Isao and Kimura Kôsuke, 117
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 119
Volume 27, Number 2 (April–June 1980)
• Trends and Topics
Pacific Rim, 147
Bureaucracy Shaken by Expense Scandals, 152
The Prospects for Coalition, 158
Japan-China Summit Meeting and China's Foreign Policy, 163
• Sakamoto Yoshikazu: Japan's Role in World Politics, 166
• Suzuki Sunao: Intellectual Climate and Policy-Making, 174
• Nishikawa Jun: Possibilities for Another Development—The Case for Japan, 180
• Japan-Thailand Study Group: Alternative Relationship Between Japan and Thailand, 193
• Murai Yoshinori: Japan—The View from Indonesia, 204
• Saitô Yoshifumi: Hara Kakuten, 215
• Hanazawa Hiroshi: Hozumi Goichi, 216
• The Asahi Shimbun's Economic Staff: Unique Enterprises, 219
• Tamura Kôsuke: The Essence of Japanese Culture on Display, 232
• Tsushima Yûko: "To Scatter Flower Petals" and "Islands of Joy" (Short Stories. Translated by Lora Sharnoff), 249
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 277
Volume 27, Number 3 (July–September 1980)
• Trends and Topics
The Second Panama Canal, 303
The Big Fuss Over the Leak of University Entrance Exams Questions, 308
Hanayagi Genshû and the "Iemoto" System, 312
The Rimpac '80 Exercises and Japan, 316
• Ui Jun: Japan as an Advanced Polluting Nation—Its Responsibility, 321

• Kihara Keikichi: Moves to Preserve Japan's Historical Heritage, 333
• Hara Junjirô: What Course for Japan's Automobile Industry? 341
• Miyoshi Shûichi: At Odds Over Automobile Trade, 346
• Sakiya Tetsuo: Honda Sôichirô, 351
• Nawa Tarô: Morita Akio, 353
• Shinkai Yôichi: Patterns of American and Japanese Growth and Productivity—A Japanese Perspective, 357
• Ôsaki Norio: A Tour of Therapeutic Hot Springs, 376
• Tsuboi Sakae: "Summer Orange" and "The Moon of the Fifteenth Night" (Short Stories. Translated by William B. Giesecke), 387
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Hamaguchi Yôzô and Ikeda Masuo, 401
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 411

Volume 27, Number 4 (October–December 1980)

• Trends and Topics
  A Shock for the Worker Bees, 435
  The Inevitability of a Tax Increase, 439
  Kazunoko Scandal, 443
  Kagemusha's Popularity at Home and Abroad, 446
• Shinohara Hajime: Logic and Psychology in Japanese Politics, 449
• Sakanaka Tomohisa: A New Phase of Japan's Defense Policy, 461
• Hara Yasushi: How to Make a Concept Real—The Idea of Pacific Basin Cooperation, 471
• Takagi Masayuki: Right Wing Draws Public Attention, 479
• Tsuru Shigeto: Whither Japan? A Positive Program of Nation-Building, 487
• Imazu Hiroshi: Suzuki Zenkô, 499
• Kunimasa Takeshige: Itô Masayoshi, 501
• Amano Michie: The Stage as I See It, 503
• Matsumoto Seichô: "The Face" (A Short Story. Translated by David W. Wright), 515
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Yanagihara Yoshitatsu and Satô Chûryô, 545
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 549

Volume 28, Number 1 (January–March 1981)

• Trends and Topics
  The Japanese Economy Disturbed by Petrodollars, 3
  High Waves on the Sea of Japan, 6
  The Current Cry for Constitutional Revision, 10
  Give Me Back My Uterus! 14
  Women University Graduates Need Not Apply, 18
• Takeuchi Minoru: Japan-China Friendship—Myth and Reality, 23
• Tanaka Akira: Japan and Korea—Relations Between Two Peripheral Cultures, 30
• Kimura Hiroshi: The Love-Hate Relationship With the Polar Bear, 39
• Kubota Akira: The Political Influence of the Japanese Higher Civil Service, 45
• Takahashi Susumu: Japan's Security and Public Opinion, 56
• Tomiyama Kazuo: The Post-War Reconstruction and High Economic Growth, 65
• Iwadare Hiroshi: Itô Ritsu, 73
• Ishikawa Iwao: Utsunomiya Tokuma, 74
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Yamaguchi Makio, Takahashi

Kiyoshi and Hayami Shirô, 78
• Nada Inada: The "Hundred Million Middle Class" and the Concept of Nami, 83
• Yoshiyuki Jun'nosuke: "Birds, Beasts, Insects and Fish" (A Short Story. Translated by Maryellen Toman Mori), 88
• Yanada Hiroyoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 116
Volume 28, Number 2 (April–June 1981)
• Trends and Topics
Japan Inc.'s Willing Scapegoats, 141
Iranian Petrochemical Project Dogged by Misfortune, 144
Japanese Men's Prostitution Tours in Asia, 149
Kômeitô: Searching for Party Reconstruction, 153
Nagoya—A Candidate for the 1988 Olympic Site, 156
• Yagisawa Mitsuo: America's Four Umbrellas—Both Sides of the Japan-U.S. Security System, 161
• Imazu Hiroshi: The Rising "Hawk" Mentality, 175
• Kitazawa Yôko: Japan Misinterpreted, 187
• Tokuyama Jirô: Interrelation of Economy and Security, 196
• Kurokawa Nobuyuki: Skyrocketing Prices of Land Hit the Social Structure, 206
• Nozoe Kenji: At Dangerous Crossroads—Japan's Agriculture and Food Security, 217
• Satô Mikio: Housing—The Most Backward Aspect of an "Economic Superpower", 227
• Shimbori Michiya: Two Features of Japan's Higher Education, 234
• Miyoshi Shûichi: Steel: A Prime Pacemaker for Economic Growth, 245
• Sasayama Yutaka: The Seasons in Japan: Spring, 256
• Fujii Shôzô: Tomizuka Mitsuo, 261
• Iwadare Hiroshi: Iwai Akira, 263
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Funakoshi Yasutake and Mukai Ryôkichi, 266
• Tomioka Taeko: "Scenery Viewed by a Dog" (A Short Story. Translated by Noriko M. Lippit), 271
• Takabatake Michitoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 295
Volume 28, Number 3 (July–September 1981)
• Trends and Topics
Japan Moving Toward Buildup of the Self-Defense Forces, 321
A Jumbo Retirement Pension Plan, 324
Money-Making Fever of the Medical Profession, 328
Revision of the Nationality Act, 331
Administrative Reform Aimed at a Small Government, 334
• Nagai Michio: Reaching for a Global Institution, 339
• Hayashi Takeshi: U.N.U.—The Japanese Experience, 348
• Soedjatmoko: Broadening the University's Scholarly Concerns, 355
• Tokoro Kazuhiko: Change in Traditional Society and "Delinquencization", 362
• Kawai Hayao: Violence in the Home, 370
• Nakae Gôki: Home Electronics: Producer of an Affluent Society, 379
• Imazu Hiroshi: Miyazawa Kiichi and Kimura Toshio, 386
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Sakamoto Kazumichi and Sasaki Yutaka, 393
• Sasayama Yutaka: The Seasons in Japan: Summer, 397
• Ôba Minako: "Fireweed" (A Short Story. Translated by Marian Chambers), 403
• Takabatake Michitoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 437

Volume 28, Number 4 (October–December 1981)

- Trends and Topics
  - The Nuclear Policy of the Japanese Government, 461
  - Anti-Nuclear Climate in Japan, 464
  - The Rejuvenation of Japan's Company Presidents, 468
- Yamazumi Masami: Textbook Revision: The Swing to the Right, 472
- Usui Katsumi: On the Duration of the Pacific War, 479
- Nosaka Akiyuki: Rising Forces of Militarism, 489
- Saitô Makoto: What Effect Has the Occupation Had on Japan-U.S. Relations? 497
- Kihara Keikichi: Japan's Environmental Policies, 501
- Tsuji Ken: Are the Japanese Workaholics? 510
- Shimokawa Kôichi: The Auto Industry, 518
- Sasayama Yutaka: The Seasons in Japan: Autumn, 528
- Kojima Nobuo: "Happiness" (A Short Story. Translated by Tanaka Yukiko), 533
- Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Hikosaka Naoyoshi and Nakanishi Natsuyuki, 551
- Chûjô Kazuo: Seko Toshihiko and Yamaguchi Kaori, 553
- Takabatake Michitoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 570

Volume 29, Number 1 (January–March 1982)

- Trends and Topics
  - Reflections on Fukui's Nobel Prize, 3
  - Arafat's Visit to Japan and Japanese Diplomacy Toward the Middle East, 6
  - The Electronics Revolution and the Ban on Export of War Materials, 9
  - Tilting to the Right?—Sweeping Changes in Kômeitô Defense Policy, 13
  - How Nagoya Lost to Seoul for the 1988 Olympic Games, 16
- Tsurumi Yoshiyuki: Another Kind of Bond With America, 19
- Samejima Shinsuke: Can Japan Steer Its Foreign Aid Policy Clear of Militarism? 30
- Ling Xing-Quang: The Chinese Economy Learns From Japanese Experience, 39
- Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Masuda Masakazu and Yasuda Haruhiko, 51
- Ishimure Michiko: Story of the Sea of Camellias (1) (A Documentary. Translated by Livia Monnet), 53
- Sasayama Yutaka: The Seasons in Japan: Winter, 88
- Suzuki Sunao: Ukita Hisako, 93
- Iwadare Hiroshi: Itô Takeshi, 95
- Tonedachi Masahisa: Japan's Lagging Oil Development, 97
- Nakamura Heiji: Japanese View on India Reconsidered, 105
- Takabatake Michitoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 126

Volume 29, Number 2 (April–June 1982)

- Trends and Topics
  - Defense Spending Sharply Boosted Under U.S. Pressure, 155
  - Japan's Intelligence Agencies, 159
  - The Removal of Non-Tariff Barriers, 162
  - Cartoon Heroes Captivate Japanese Young People, 165
- Sakamoto Yoshikazu: New Dimensions of Disarmament Processes, 169
- Maeda Hisao: The Free-Rider Myth, 176
- Kamo Takehiko: The Risk of Nuclear War and Japanese Militarization, 183
- Public Opinion Poll by The Asahi Shimbun: Peace and Security in Statistics, 197

• Aoki Hiroshi: Japan and Australia: Ambivalent Partners, 200
• Matsuzaki Masahiro: Textiles—Probing the Way to Revitalization, 205
• Sugawara Nobuo: Ôshima Nagisa and Jissôji Akio, 212
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Takayama Tatsuo and Yamaguchi Kayô, 219
• Ishimure Michiko: Story of the Sea of Camellias (2) (A Documentary. Translated by Livia Monnet), 222
• Sasayama Yutaka: Kaleidoscope: Follow the Plastic Warrior! 253
• Takabatake Michitoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 258

Volume 29, Number 3 (July–September 1982)

• Trends and Topics
The Disarmament Movement on the Upsurge, 287
Ten Years After the Reversion of Okinawa, 290
The Japanese National Railways in Crisis, 293
Japanese Orphans From China, 297
• Fujii Harue: Education for Women, 301
• Higuchi Keiko: Japanese Women in Transition, 311
• Takeuchi Hiroshi: Working Women in Business Corporations, 319
• Nishimura Mitsuyo: In Praise of Finland, 324
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Nagai Kazumasa and Tanaka Ikkô, 331
• Tomiyama Kazuo: Weapon Manufacturers Continue to Grow, 335
• Yano Jun'ichi: Takemitsu Tôru and Ozawa Seiji, 346
• Arima Makiko: Kaleidoscope: Luxurious and Costly—Japanese Weddings, 353
• Saeki Shôichi: The American Civil War and the Meiji Restoration, 357
• Takabatake Michitoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 377

Volume 29, Number 4 (October–December 1982)

• Trends and Topics
When Young People's Fancy Turns to Thoughts of Work, 403
House of Councilors Electoral Reform, 405
The Crisis in Public Finances, 409
• Tanaka Toyozô: The LDP Presidential Election—A Foregone Conclusion? 412
• Tachibana Takashi: Japan's Shady Shogun—Tanaka Kakuei, the Man Who Runs the Political Machine, 418
• The Asahi Shimbun Public Opinion Poll on Nuclear Consciousness in Hiroshima and Nagasaki, 424
• Toward a Techno-Society
Kishida Junnosuke: Japanese Technology—Its Strength and Future Challenges, 426
Moritani Masanori: International Cooperation in Technological Development, 432
Technopia, May 1990, 437
Silicon Island—Tomorrow's World Leader? 445
• Hayashi Shôsuke: Tômatsu Shômei and Nakamura Masaya, 451
• Matsuda Kiichi: Japan and the West—16th-Century Cultural Encounters, 454
• Sasayama Yutaka: Kaleidoscope: Split-End Spoons, 461
• Ogawa Masataka: Contemporary Artists in Japan: Maekawa Tsuyoshi and Maekawa Ken'ichi, 465
• Kunugi Teruo: Singapore's Spiritual Revolution, 469
• Yano Jun'ichi: Why Is Beethoven's Ninth So Well Loved in Japan? 475
• Kurisaka Yoshirô: A Song of Sympathy and Gladness, 479

• Takabatake Michitoshi: From the Newspapers and Magazines, 498

Volume 30, Number 1 (January–March 1983)
• Morita Akio: Do Companies Need Lawyers? 2
• Ishikawa Masumi: Japan's Estranged Prime Ministership, 9
• Mayekawa Haruo: The Bank of Japan in Its Second Century, 13
• Akabane Takao: Hot on the Trail of the Japanese Economy, 17
• Hasegawa Keitarô: Japan as a Capital Market, 24
• Irokawa Daikichi: The Subject Mentality, 28
• Irie Sukemasa: My 50 Years With the Emperor, 39
• Kishida Hideo: Utakai-Hajime: The New Year's Poetry Party, 44
• Sasayama Yutaka: Kaleidoscope: Uncaring Adults—Violent Students, 50
• Lee O-Young: The Culture of "Wa", 54
• Kuni Masami: The Musical World of Tomita Isao, 57
• Asabuki Tomiko: Dreamlike Visions of Chromatic Beauty, 59
• Kurata Yasuo: A Force for International Understanding, 69
• Caroline A. Yang: The Continuing Importance of Educational Exchange, 72
• Yonekura Mamoru: Another View of Open Exhibitions, 76
• Trends and Topics
Beware of the Tiger's Gate, 89
Japan's Flourishing Emperor System, 92

Volume 30, Number 2 (April–June 1983)
• Miyadô Daigo: Responding to Southeast Asia, 118
• Nakamae Tadashi: Why Fear Protectionism? 122
• Tanaka Akira: Japanese-South Korean Relations in the 1980s, 126
• Arima Sumisato: Yasu Visits Washington Bearing Gifts, 130
• Jackson Bailey: Cultural Exchange: Theory and Practice, 133
• Shimomura Mitsuko: Tanohata Village: School of International Living, 140
• Ôishi Yûji: Recognizing Differences for Mutual Understanding, 145
• Nakano Akira: What Ever Happened to Progressive Education? 149
• Kuroyanagi Tetsuko: On Totto-chan, 153
• Matsushita Muneyuki: Whither the Japan Socialist Party? 156
• Henry Scott Stokes: The Emptiness Principle, 160
• Bernadine Morris: The Best Five in the World of Fashion, 163
• Yamashita Katsutoshi: Kaleidoscope: Pure, Sweet and Slightly Dangerous—Japanese Actresses, 169
• Kawakita Michiaki: Sacred Landscapes—Higashiyama Kaii, 173
• Donald Richie: The State of the Japanese Film, 176
• Nakajima Mineo: China May Return to the Soviet Bloc, 181
• Wada Haruki: Japanese-Soviet Relations and East Asian Security, 188
• Hashimoto Shirô: Population Trends in Japan, 194
• Homma Yukiko: Recollections of Ruskin and My Father, 202

Volume 30, Number 3 (July–September 1983)
• Isoda Ichirô: The Need for a Lifeboat System, 234
• Kagoshima Shigeharu: The Collapse of the Myth of Local Autonomy, 239
• Funabashi Yôichi: Issues in Contemporary Chinese Society, 243
• Kimura Akio: Sino-Soviet Rapprochement: How Far Will It Go? 248
• Nagatomi Yûichirô: The Softening of the Economy, 256
• Kurokawa Nobuyuki: Liberalizing Beef and Orange Imports, 261

• Hiraizumi Etsurô: "A Winter Moon", 266
• Edward Seidensticker: The Death of Kobayashi Hideo, 270
• Kitahara Hideo: The Making of a Good Ambassador, 274
• Morimoto Tetsurô: Orwellian Landscapes, 277
• Robert Schinzinger: Kaleidoscope: Imitation and Originality in Japanese Culture, 281
• Hélène Cornevin: A Hundred Ways Without Solitude, 290
• Donald Keene: The Onnagata and Kabuki, 293
• Irmgard Johnson: Takigi Nô: Firelight Performances in Sacred Precincts, 301
• Kobayashi Tsukasa and Higashiyama Akane: Sherlock Holmes in Japan, 306
• Yamazaki Yukio: The Photographic Eye of Shinoyama Kishin, 309
• Trends and Topics
The 1983 Unified Local Elections, 323
The Oil Price Cut, 325
The Japanese-Style Welfare System, 327

Volume 30, Number 4 (October–December 1983)
• Amaya Naohiro: The Millennium or Armageddon: Japan May Hold the Key, 350
• Ishikawa Masumi: The Post-Upper House Election Political Landscape, 354
• Yagisawa Mitsuo: Maintaining Japanese Security, 357
• Maeda Hisashi: Regulation of Armaments in Asia, 362
• Nishinaga Yoshinari: Violent Humans, Human Violence, 367
• Minamoto Hiromichi: Yamatai: The Elusive Kingdom, 373
• Matsumoto Seichô: Japan in the Third Century, 377
• Takemoto Tôru: The Kyushu Dynasty, 383
• Sen Sôshitsu XV: Chadô: The Way of Tea, 388
• Michael G. Pidoux: Life in a Local Japanese City, 396
• John E. B. Newman: "News BBC", 399
• Takahashi Akira: Making the Most of Development Aid, 402
• Saitô Seiichirô: Tax Inequities and the Underground Economy, 406
• Matsumoto Shigeru: Efforts of the Pollution Prevention Corporation, 409
• Ogawa Masataka: The Paintings of Domoto Hisao, 417
• Ôyama Masutatsu: Karate: My Life for 50 Years, 420
• Kurata Yasuo: Kaleidoscope: What's in a French Name? 423
• Dan Ikuma: Pipe Smoke (1), 426
• Trends and Topics
The Changing Face of Japanese Management, 443
Sarakin: The Merciless Moneylenders, 445
The 1983 Upper House Election, 448

Volume 31, Number 1 (January–March 1984)
• Ôba Tomomitsu: The Outlook for the Yen, 2
• Matsushita Keiichi: Half Democracy, 6
• Kaji Chizuko: The Postwar Wife—No Longer Incompetent, 11
• André Brunet: Thirty Years in Japan, 19
• Odawara Ken'ichi: The Competition Principle in Japanese Companies and Labor Unions, 25
• G. Robert Baker: Japan-U.S. Economic Friction, 28
• Davis B. Bobrow: Playing for Safety: Japan's Security Practices, 33
• Tanaka Akira: Animosity on the Korean Peninsula, 44
• Henry Scott Stokes: Mishima, a Movie and Nakasone, 49

• Timothy Barrett: Japanese Paper: Past and Present, 55
• Tanaka Kôjô: The Japanese Crane—Symbol of Good Luck, 62
• Dan Ikuma: Pipe Smoke (2), 69
• Terry Trucco: Kaleidoscope: The Akihabara Dream, 74
• Ishikawa Masumi: The JSP Under New Leadership, 79
• Chris McCooey: Off the Beaten Track, 82
• Trends and Topics
The Fall of the Shady Shogun, 103
The Medical School Scandal: A Systemic Disease, 106
Nissan's Tough Decision, 109

Volume 31, Number 2 (April–June 1984)
• Inoue Yasushi: The Writer's Role in the Nuclear Age, 126
• Ishikawa Masumi: Anxious Days Ahead for the LDP, 129
• Hirose Michisada: Nakasone's November Dilemma, 133
• Kunimasa Takeshige: Tanaka Rokusuke: Profile of a New Leader, 138
• Ishibashi Masashi: The Road to Unarmed Neutrality, 142
• Henry Scott Stokes: The View from the Bankers Club, Tokyo, 146
• Takeda Jun: Twenty Years in the OECD, 150
• Juliet Carpenter: Izumi Kyôka: Meiji-Era Gothic, 154
• Maya Mortimer: Reflexivity in the Stories of Kunikida Doppo, 159
• Endô Shûsaku: "The Shadow Figure" (1) (A Short Story. Translated by Thomas Lally, Ôka Yumiko and Dennis J. Doolin), 164
• Miyazawa Kenji: Night of the Milky Way Railroad (1) (A Novel. Translated by S.J. Sigrist. Edited and abridged by D.M. Stroud), 174
• Pierre Brisard: A Personal Sort of International Exchange, 185
• Ôishi Yûji: Tange Kenzô: A Half Century of Architectural Achievements, 193
• Dan Ikuma: Pipe Smoke (3), 197
• Hugh Cortazzi: Bridge of the Brocade Sash—The Lure of Japanese Culture, 201
• Allan Patience: A Comparison of Japanese and Australian University Systems, 206
• Christopher Blasdel: The Shakuhachi: Aesthetics of a Single Tone, 214

Volume 31, Number 3 (July–September 1984)
• Yamada Kôun: On Christianity and Zen, 242
• Trends and Topics
Agreement on Japan-U.S. Agricultural Trade, 250
Japan's Lonely Workers, 252
The Equal Employment Opportunity Bill, 255
• Ôtsuki Shinji: Nakasone's New Asian Diplomacy, 259
• Kawachi Shirô: Ichikawa Ennosuke: Kabuki Innovator, 262
• Yokoyama Masao: The Prince and the Press Corps: Happy Reunion, 265
• Takahashi Osamu: Brilliant Shadows: Ozu Yasujirô, 269
• Kobayashi Kazuyoshi: Kaleidoscope: Japan's Sex Industry as Number One, 278
• Mukôda Kuniko: "Doubt" (A Short Story. Translated by Dan Semour), 281
• Inoue Munemichi: Concentration of Exports, 288
• Endô Shûsaku: "The Shadow Figure" (2) (A Short Story. Translated by Thomas Lally, Ôka Yumiko and Dennis J. Doolin), 294
• Fujita Shin'ichi: Life and Death in Japan Today, 302
• Marie Rose Ishiguro: Hospitality Begins at Home, 304
• Takano Hiroaki: Poster Madness, 309
• Dan Ikuma: Pipe Smoke (4), 311

• Miyazawa Kenji: Night of the Milky Way Railroad (2) (A Novel. Translated by S.J. Sigrist. Edited and abridged by D.M. Stroud), 314

Volume 31, Number 4 (October–December 1984)

• Imazu Hiroshi: A New Era in Japan-South Korea Relations, 358
• Ishikawa Masumi: The Season for Choosing the Prime Minister, 365
• Wagatsuma Hiroshi: Some Cultural Assumptions Among the Japanese, 371
• Shintô Hisashi: Reform of the Telecommunications System in Japan, 380
• Hatano Toshio: The New Media Nebula, 384
• Ikeuchi Fumio: The 1986–90 Medium-Term Defense Plan, 390
• Maeda Hisao: A Perilous Plan for Japan's Security, 395
• Toyoda Toshiyuki: The Decreasing Credibility of Nuclear Deterrence, 400
• Tange Kenzô: In Search of a New Architecture, 406
• Takeda Kiyoko: Ichikawa Fusae: Pioneer for Women's Rights in Japan, 410
• Saitô Shinji: Hayashi Yasuko, 416
• A Nara Winter, 418
• Gregory Clark: The Education of a Gaijin Sensei, 425
• Kawabata Yasunari: "The Harbor", "The Child's Standpoint", "The Dead-Face Affair" and "The Hat Incident" (Short Stories. Translated by P. Metevelis), 429
• Takahashi Osamu: Brilliant Shadows: Ozu Yasujirô (2), 435
• Kaleidoscope: "Good Night, Sweet Prince", 445
• Trends and Topics
The 1984 Rice Shortage, 448
Corporate Identity, 452

Volume 32, Number 1 (January–March 1985)

• Tanaka Naoki: The Changing Japan-U.S. Economic Relationship, 2
• Ôtsuki Shinji: Nakasone's Second Term, 10
• Nagai Michio: Developments in the Postwar Years, 14
• Nishimura Hidetoshi: Commissioning a Master Plan, 18
• Takashima Masuo: A Former Ambassador Looks at the U.S.S.R., 23
• Donald Keene: Japanese Diaries, 28
• Kudô Yoroshi: Kaleidoscope: Shôwa Perspectives: Sixty Years of Dynamic Change, 35
• Chûjô Kazuo: Sumo Enters a New Age, 41
• Kasahara Mitsuo: The Moonies Make a Comeback, 46
• Ibuse Masuji: "The Cat" (An Essay. Translated by Lawrence Rogers), 51
• Etô Kazuko: Foreign Graduate Students in Japan, 58
• Juliet Carpenter: Spring in Nara, 61
• Ôyama Shigeo: Amagatsu Ushio: Avant-Garde Choreographer, 69
• Harvey A. Shapiro: The Japanese Sense of Nature, 73
• Sodei Takako: The Fatherless Family, 77
• Kohara Jirô: In Praise of Wood, 92

Volume 32, Number 2 (April–June 1985)

• Karatsu Hajime: Coping With the New Computers, 118
• Ôyama Shigeo: Fuchi Kazuhiro: Making a Computer That Thinks, 123
• Mori Kiyoshi: Update From the Land of Robots, 129
• Imagawa Eiichi: Initiating a Pacific Basin Plan, 135
• Kubota Akira: Foreign Aid: Giving With One Hand? 140
• Eleanor H. Jorden: Japanese Language Education and Science: A New Wave? 145

• Donald Keene: Diaries of the Heian Period, 152
• Kudô Yoroshi: Cheers for Local Brews, 159
• Aoki Toshio: The Zen Gap, 165
• Kamata Satoshi: Wedding Extravaganzas, 168
• Ôhori Sueo: The Era of the Working Wife, 174
• Okai Teruo: Maeda Shinzô's Landscape Photography, 179
• Miyoshi Akira: The Boom in Piano Lessons, 185
• Miriam L. Olson: Culture Shock: Help After the Honeymoon, 189
• Peter Popham: Tokyo's Wedge of Sunshine, 194
• Kusamori Shin'ichi: The Craft of Carving Masks, 198

Volume 32, Number 3 (July–September 1985)
• Mushakôji Kinhide: In Search of Formulas for Regional Peace, 234
• Takase Shôji: What "Star Wars" Means to Japan, 240
• Odawara Atsushi: No Tampering With the Brakes on Military Expansion, 248
• Kunimasa Takeshige: Who's Who in the Political Lineup, 256
• Masamura Kimihiro: Writing Finis to the Postwar Period, 261
• Fujimori Ken: Middle-aged Orphans of War, 266
• Ui Jun: A Citizens' Forum: 15 Years Against Pollution, 271
• Kudô Yoroshi: Danjûrô XII Takes Center Stage, 277
• Donald Keene: Diaries of the Kamakura Period, 281
• Joanne R. Bernardi: Catching a Film Audience Abroad, 290
• Suzuki Kenji: A Legacy of Dolls and Dreams, 296
• Senna Osamu: The Top Ten Pavilions at Tsukuba Expo '85, 304
• Ryu Sanghee: Why Koreans Oppose the Fingerprint Law, 308
• Toba Kin'ichirô: Japan's "Peace Corps" Turns Technical, 312
• Hiraike Yoshikazu: The Dying Japanese Village, 316
• Takagi Masayuki: Pride and Prosperity Among Yakuza, 320
• Oka Namiki: The Unhappy Birth of a Tunnel, 324

Volume 32, Number 4 (October–December 1985)
• Shibata Tokue: Tokyo: Bright Present, Foreboding Future, 350
• Edagawa Kôichi: Tokyo's Foreign Flavors, 356
• Akiyama Kôtarô: A Kingmaker in the Making, 360
• Hirose Michisada: Mock Battle Over Election Districts, 364
• Fukatsu Masumi: The Socialists' Belated Image Change, 369
• Donald Keene: Bashô's Diaries, 374
• Nakamachi Hiroshi: The Corporate Rush for Culture, 384
• Shimbori Michiya: From Japanology to Japanese Studies, 389
• Okai Teruo: Women's Faces, Flower Faces, 396
• Kobayashi Kazuhiro: Publishing With Little Plan or Profit, 403
• Murakami Yoshio: Bullies in the Classroom, 407
• Shigekane Yoshiko: Learning for Joy at a Culture Center, 412
• Dnyaneshwar M. Mulay: My Experiments With Nihongo, 418
• Chûjô Kazuo: Yamashita Yasuhiro: Pride of Judo, 422
• Kamata Satoshi: Women in the Ring, 426
• Takagi Koreyoshi: The Bamboocraft Mission, 432

Volume 33, Number 1 (January–March 1986)
• Donald Keene: The Difficulty I Had Learning Japanese, 2
• Ôishi Yûji: A Tsunami of Language Learners, 8

• Chûma Kiyofuku: The 1986–90 Defense Plan: Does It Go Too Far? 13
• Fukatsu Masumi: A State Visit to Yasukuni Shrine, 19
• Kamitsuka Akihiro: Reform of the Red-Ink Railroad, 25
• Nakamachi Hiroshi: Ginza Store Wars, 32
• Kubota Akira: Transferring Technology to Asia, 37
• Ishi Hiroyuki: Green Aid for Africa, 45
• Yamaori Tetsuo: The Metamorphosis of Ancestors, 50
• Kubota Kyôko: Alcoholism and the Housewife, 54
• Ôyama Shigeo: Kanzaki En, Classical Dancer, 59
• Itô Teiji: Farmhouses in Reminiscence, 63
• Yuminamochi Fukuo: Farmhouses (Photographs), 65
• Tsushima Yûko: "South Wind" (A Short Story. Translated by Geraldine Harcourt), 72
• Norris Brock Johnson: The Idea of a Garden, 81
• Satô Kazuo: Haiku Blossoms Abroad, 85
• Janine Beichman: Noh in English: Encounters Far and Near, 88
• Araki Shigeo: Cultural Exchange in a Small Town, 93

Volume 33, Number 2 (April–June 1986)

• Takabatake Michitoshi: The Shift to Political Corporatism, 118
• Ishikawa Masumi: Nakasone's Bid to Stay in Power, 125
• Takayama Satoshi: The Soviet Union Smiles at Japan, 129
• Eleanor Harz Jorden: On Teaching Nihongo, 139
• Hirose Michisada: Glitter and Expense in LDP Factional Politics, 148
• Kurokawa Nobuyuki: Intelligent Buildings Rise in Tokyo, 154
• Muramatsu Yasuko: For Wives on Friday: Women's Roles in TV Dramas, 159
• Okai Teruo: Yanagawa, City of Canals, 164
• Sonobe Kiyoshi: Yanagawa (Photographs), 165
• Ujihara Shôjirô: The Job Market for the Middle-Aged, 172
• Bandô Sugahara Mariko: When Women Change Jobs, 177
• Kudô Yoroshi: Sorimachi Shigeo and His Rare-Book Cart, 183
• Kihara Keikichi: Nature and History at Stake—The Emerging National Trust Movements, 190
• Hugh Cortazzi: A Former British Ambassador Speaks Out, 196
• Hara Yumiko: Self-expression Through Dress, 202
• Tonomura Tamihiko: Bipolarity in Japanese Religious Feeling, 207

Volume 33, Number 3 (July–September 1986)

• Husimi Kôdi: (SDI) The Militarization of Basic Research, 234
• Emura Yoshirô: (SDI) What Technology Does the U.S. Want? 238
• Takase Shôji: (SDI) The Politics of Participating, 244
• Iida Tsuneo: What Japan Can't Do About Trade Friction, 252
• Chikaraishi Sadakazu: The Zushi Alternative for U.S. Military Housing, 257
• Toida Michizô: Split Bamboo, 264
• Takama Shinji: Bamboo (Photographs), 265
• Fujii Shôzô: Labor Movement at the Crossroads, 271
• Murakami Yoshio: Endô Yutaka's Garden of Freedom School, 276
• Patricia J. Horvath: Lessons From Japanese Mathematics Education, 280
• Takeda Jun: Turbulence in the Airline Industry, 285
• Chikushi Tetsuya: Young People as a New Human Race, 291
• Igarashi Fumio: The Video Game With Media Potential, 295
• Zakô Jun: A Nation of Mozart Lovers, 299

• Georges Neyrand: Missionary Work in a Downtown Bar, 304
• Koyama Shigeki: The Oil Glut and the Japanese Economy, 309
• Margaret Mitsutani: Renaissance in Women's Literature, 313
• Mukôda Kuniko: "The River Otter" (A Short Story. Translated by Marian E. Chambers), 320

Volume 33, Number 4 (October–December 1986)
• Yamaguchi Yasushi: The High Noon of Pragmatic Conservatism, 350
• Tanaka Toyozô: When the Political Wind Shifts, 359
• Lucille Craft: The High-Decibel Election, 365
• Ôtani Ken: Enter Keidanren's Young Leaders, 368
• Adachi Ikutsune: Crisis in the Land of Beautiful Rice Ears, 374
• Sugioka Sekio: Cottage Industries: Victims of the Strong Yen, 381
• Doi Zenjirô: From Fishing to Farming the Sea, 386
• Takagi Masayuki: Missiles From the Radical Left, 391
• Kaga Otohiko: Kushiro Marsh, Engraved in My Heart, 395
• Omote Masami: Kushiro Marsh (Photographs), 397
• Ueda Masaaki: A Fresh Look at Ancient History, 403
• Kurokawa Nobuyuki: Mori Taikichirô, Tokyo's Real-Estate King, 411
• Yamashita Katsutoshi: Divorce, Japanese Style, 416
• Nakamura Susumu: An Azalea on Every Balcony, a Bonsai in Every Home, 421
• Ômori Chiaki: The Black Cat Marches On, 425
• Hayashi Risuke: The Cure for the Philippine Syndrome, 430
• Fujioka Masao: Making Loans to Asian Lands in Need, 434

Volume 34, Number 1 (January–March 1987)
• Uchihashi Katsuto: Toward Methodology Innovation in Industry, 2
• Yano Tôru: A New Outlook for Internationalization, 8
• Narumi Masayasu: The Prospects for Promoting Local Autonomy, 13
• Takahashi Fumitoshi: Governor Hiramatsu Morihiko's "One Village, One Product" Campaign, 19
• Arima Sumisato: Can a "Resolute Woman" Save the Socialist Party? 24
• Miyata Noboru: Redefining Folklore for the City, 30
• Dômoto Akiko: Student Returnees, Student Misfits, 34
• Yamashiro Masaki: The Big Welcome for Foreign College Students, 39
• Karen L. Campbell: Ultranationalism in the English-Language Classroom, 46
• Yamazaki Masato: History Textbooks That Provoke an Asian Outcry, 51
• Sakai Takeshi: The F-F-E Phenomenon, 56
• Haga Hideo: Rice Cakes for the New Year God, 61
• Hasegawa Hiroshi: A Petition to Open the Rice Market, 69
• Kojima Nobuo: "The Rifle" (A Short Story. Translated by Lawrence Rogers), 74
• Iyori Naoko: The Traffic in Japayuki-san, 84
• Katô Kôichi: Prime Time for Schoolgirl Amateurs, 89

Volume 34, Number 2 (April–June 1987)
• Kishimoto Shigenobu: On the Progressive Hollowing of Industry, 118
• Hayabusa Nagaharu: Tax Revision for Better or Much Worse, 124
• Ueno Chizuko: Genesis of the Urban Housewife, 130
• Mizuno Takaaki: Ainu, The Invisible Minority, 143
• Ôoka Makoto: Reviving Classical Linked Poems Abroad, 149

• Odawara Atsushi: The Conservative's Dual Mind, 153
• Kondô Nobuyuki: Mount Fuji, Light and Shadow, 162
• Kimura Nakahisa: Photographs of Mount Fuji, 165
• Itô Masataka: The Day Dogs Become Human, 171
• Nishimura Hidetoshi: Universities—Under Pressure to Change, 179
• Inoue Shôichi: The False Image of Katsura Detached Palace, 185
• Shibahashi Hachirô: An Oklahoma Batter Makes Good, 189
• Kanki Takurô: "The Salmon" (A Short Story. Translated by Paul D. McGrath), 196
• Tsutsui Michio: Five Beloved Folktales and Their Trees, 204

Volume 34, Number 3 (July–September 1987)
• Kôsai Yutaka: The Reasons That Unemployment Must Rise, 234
• Kishida Junnosuke: Marketable Technology, Key to Postwar Success, 242
• Chûma Kiyofuku: What Price the Defense of Japan? 251
• Kunimasa Takeshige: A Bitter Election Pill for Nakasone, 259
• Christine Chapman: The Meiji Letters of Tsuda Ume, Pioneer Educator of Women, 263
• Thomas Cook: Ôshima's Great Fire Spirit, 271
• Yoshida Keiji: Old Roads, Honjin, and Wood-Fee Inns, 278
• Nakayama Akira: Photographs of Old Roads, 281
• Kasama Tatsuo: A Century of School Excursions, 287
• Satô Tadao: The Everyday Films of Itami Jûzô, 291
• Inami Shinnosuke: Police Boxes and Their Officers, 295
• Itô Masataka: On the Track of "Divine Sales" People, 300
• Yoshihiro Kiyoko: Interviews With Unmarried Women, 305
• Takahashi Mariko: Word Processors Transform the Language, 309
• Atsumi Tamotsu: The Kansai Takes Off, 313
• Kurita Wataru: When Men Make Up Their Faces, 319

Volume 34, Number 4 (October–December 1987)
• Yoshitomi Masaru: U.S. Protectionists—Still Fighting Yesterday's War, 350
• Ninagawa Masao: How to Make a Better Semiconductor, 358
• Inoguchi Takashi: The Legacy of a Weathercock Prime Minister, 363
• Tanaka Toyozô: Breakup of the Tanaka Faction: End of an Era, 371
• Tamura Akira: Deconcentrating Tokyo, Reconfiguring Japan, 378
• Akiba Tadatoshi: Message From Hiroshima, 385
• Tsuruta Kinya: Fantastic Westerners in Modern Fiction, 393
• Miyashita Nobuo: Ninagawa Yukio, Theatrical Pacesetter, 400
• Ôyama Shigeo: A Little Revolution in Kimonos, 405
• Fujimori Terunobu: Shitamachi, In Tokyo's Left Hand, 410
• Muraoka Hideo: Photographs of Shitamachi, 413
• Esaka Akira: Lost: Illusions About Japanese Management, 419
• Aoki Hiroshi: Red Alert in the South Pacific, 424
• David Tracey: My Month in a Sake Brewery, 431

Volume 35, Number 1 (January–March 1988)
• Katô Shûichi: GNP Nationalism on the Upswing, 2
• Ôta Masahide: War Memories Die Hard in Okinawa, 9
• Nishikawa Jun: What Is Owed the Debt-Ridden Third World, 17
• Fujiwara Eiji: Wildlife in Japan: Crisis and Recovery, 26
• Nakajima Mineo: The Precarious Balance of Chinese Socialism, 33

• Hirose Michisada: The Compromise Prime Minister, 39
• Fukatsu Masumi: Script for Opposition-Party Coalition, 44
• E. Anthony Zaloom: An American Lawyer Comes to Japan, 49
• Kurokawa Nobuyuki: Reappraising the Real Estate Boom, 53
• Awata Fusaho: Disneyland's Dreamlike Success, 58
• Nozoe Kenji: Trade-Friction Scapegoat in the Paddy Field, 63
• Haga Yasuo: Photographs of Niigata Rice Fields, 65
• Shindô Eiichi: A Deluded Defense Policy, 71
• Yoneyama Toshinao: The Archipelago's Small Basin Universes, 79
• Kanematsu Sachiko: The Women of Kabukichô, 84

Volume 35, Number 2 (April–June 1988)

• Yasuda Yasoi: Tokyo On and Under the Bay, 118
• Yawata Kazuo: Why and Where to Relocate the Capital, 127
• Senda Minoru: Taoist Roots in Japanese Culture, 133
• Ôtsuki Shinji: Battle Over the FSX Fighter: Who Won? 139
• Inagaki Takeshi: Rocket Readiness, 146
• Nishimura Hidetoshi: Flag and Anthem, Symbols of Distress, 152
• Ogose Sunao: The Ossification of University Faculties, 157
• Mori Yutaka: A Magnificence of Dragons, 163
• Hayashi Yoshikatsu: Photographs of Chinese Dragons, 165
• Kubota Nobuhiro: Shikoku Pilgrimage, 171
• Rebecca L. Copeland: Uno Chiyo: Not Just "A Writer of Illicit Love", 176
• Miyashita Nobuo: East Meets West in the Theater, 184
• Hayabusa Nagaharu: The Tsutsumi Brothers, Feuding Magnates, 192
• Ishikawa Yôji: The 1988 Job Market for Recent Graduates, 196
• Kobayashi Keiji: A Muted Welcome for Roh, 201

Volume 35, Number 3 (July–September 1988)

• Koseki Shôichi: Japanizing the Constitution, 234
• Mori Kôichi and Matsufuji Kazuto: Paleolithic Forest Dwellers Surmised, 242
• Sano Yôko: Seven Mysteries of Long Working Hours, 248
• Satô Kunio: Wives for Farmers, A Critical Import, 253
• Sugiyama Mitsunobu: Should Foreign Workers Be Welcomed? 260
• Loke Pooi-choon: More Visas to Open the Labor Market, 266
• Kuroha Ryôichi: U.S. Universities Come to Town, 271
• Ôsaki Norio: Beaten Tracks to Secret Spas, 275
• Akatsuka Yukio: Our Retrospective Age, 279
• Nakamura Masaya: Women's Daily Life in the 1920s (Photographs), 281
• Ôtsuka Eiji: Comic-Book Formula for Success, 287
• Makino Nobuhiko: Limbering Up the Financial Market, 292
• Ôshima Keichi: The Political Dimension of Scientific Research, 297
• Nakano Kôji: Over a Go Board, Two Hands Talking, 303
• Aoki Hiroshi: Conversational Japanese: Reports From Five Countries, 307
• Ueda Atsushi: An Architect and His Bridge Museum, 312
• Nakae Yôsuke: China and Japan: Differences Between Friends, 317

Volume 35, Number 4 (October–December 1988)

• Higuchi Yôichi: "When Society Is Itself the Tyrant", 350
• Sakai Takeshi: A Matter of Faith, 357
• Sugata Masaaki: Shinto Resurgence, 365
• Uchida Kenzô: Slow and Steady: The Takeshita Administration's First Year, 371

• Imai Masatoshi: Support for the Cabinet, 377
• Shimizu Manabu: Japan's Middle East Policy, 383
• Shimotomai Nobuo: The Soviet Union and East Asia: Toward Economic Reconciliation, 390
• Deguchi Yûkô: In Search of Edo, 395
• Tanuma Takeyoshi: Edo Period Retrospectives (Photographs), 397
• Takagi Jinzaburô: Nuclear Power's Credibility Crunch, 403
• Van C. Gessel: Echoes of Feminine Sensibility in Literature, 410
• Enchi Fumiko: "Skeletons of Men" (A Short Story. Translated by Susan Matisoff), 417
• Yanagisawa Yasumasa: Namikawa Banri: Photographing the Silk Road, 428
• Takagi Nobuo: Japanese Abroad: Armed With Slippers and Soy Sauce, 432

Volume 36, Number 1 (January–March 1989)
• William Watts: President Bush: What Lies Ahead? 4
• Igarashi Takeshi: Animosity or Growing Pains: The U.S.-Japan Relationship, 11
• Chûma Kiyofuku: Whose Burden Is Shared Defense? 18
• Kamei Shunsuke: Opening Up to American Culture, 25
• William Wetherall: Buffer Zones, 32
• Ôe Kenzaburô: "Unexpected Muteness" (A Short Story. Translated by William Wetherall), 35
• William Wetherall: Naturally Speaking, 45
• Takeda Kiyoko: Conflicting Concepts on the Emperor, 50
• Donald Keene: The Diaries of Mori Ôgai, 56
• Ijiri Hidenori: Slighting Taiwan Is Behind the Times, 69
• Chûjô Kazuo: The Olympics: Let No Man Put Asunder, 75
• Okabe Itsuko: Obscuring the Truth, 79
• Ôyama Shigeo: Semiconductors and the Japanese Mind, 86
• Zakô Jun: International Tenor: Ichihara Tarô, 92

Volume 36, Number 2 (April–June 1989)
• Tanaka Naoki: The Dollar's Fin de Siècle, the Yen's Début, 120
• Hayabusa Nagaharu: A Tax Reform Fraud? 127
• Ishikawa Masumi: Reckoning With Recruit, 135
• Arioka Jirô: Quieting Social Security Nightmares, 141
• Umeda Toshirô: Transplants Forbidden, 146
• Katherine Muzik: Blue Coral or Gray Cement, 155
• Ide Yasushige: The Coral Reefs of Ishigaki: A Historical Perspective, 163
• Donald Keene: The Diary of Higuchi Ichiyô, 167
• Okada Kishû: Nikko's Inner Wonders, 179
• Kurita Wataru: Making Peace With Hirohito and a Militaristic Past, 186
• Juliet Winters Carpenter: Tawara Machi: "To Create Poetry Is to Live", 193
• Janet E. Goff: Performing Noh at the Vatican, 201
• Murakami Motoko: Eating Is a Solitary Pastime, 207

Volume 36, Number 3 (July–September 1989)
• Takabatake Michitoshi: The Liberal-Democratic Party in Crisis, 244
• Kunimasa Takeshige: Uno Sôsuke and the Windfall of Crisis, 252
• Okada Motoharu: China's Economic Reform on Trial, 256
• Kubota Akira: The Asian NIEs as Trading Partners, 263
• Hayashi Kôji: A Halfhearted Anti-Apartheid Policy, 267

• Shindô Eiichi: Frozen in the Cold War: Another Look at Japan-U.S. Friction, 275
• Funaba Masatomi: High Technology in the Himalayas, 282
• Izumi Katsuhiko: Whither the Traditions of Local Pottery? 287
• Nagamine Haruo: Korea's Saemaul Movement: "Capacitation" in Development, 294
• Takagi Masayuki: The Japanese Right Wing, 300
• Sugawara Nobuo: Takano Etsuko: Protector of Fine Cinema, 306
• Senda Akihiko: Experiments in Cross-Cultural Theater, 311
• Wada Takashi: Dostoyevsky's The Idiot on Tokyo, 315
• Donald Keene: The Diary of Masaoka Shiki, 320

Volume 36, Number 4 (October–December 1989)
• Odawara Atsushi: Kaifu Toshiki: Prime Minister Betwixt and Between, 368
• Sasaki Takeshi: The LDP Teeters in the Political Balance, 375
• Sawachi Hisae: The Political Awakening of Women, 381
• Ishikawa Masumi: Why the LDP Debacle? 386
• Nishikawa Jun: Japan's Economic Cooperation: New Visions Wanted, 392
• Takeuchi Minoru: A Bitter Disappointment: Confessions of a Japanese Sinologist, 404
• Sakai Kazuko: Chinese Working Students in Tokyo, 409
• Yoneyama Toshinao: Soothing Vengeful Souls: The Origin of Summer Festivals, 418
• Furudate Kenji: Whence the Gion Tapestries? 424
• Ôtsuki Shinji: The FSX Controversy Revived, 433
• Donald Keene: The Diaries of Ishikawa Takuboku, 444

Volume 37, Number 1 (January–March 1990)
• Asai Motofumi: Democracy, an Unintended Victim, 4
• Takayama Satoshi: The Japanese-Soviet Warm-Up, 14
• Naramoto Eisuke: Japan Aligned With the PLO, 19
• Fukatsu Masumi: Doi Takako Tackles the Obstacles to Power, 24
• K.V. Kesavan: Political Watershed 1989, 31
• Janine Beichman: Yosano Akiko: The Early Years, 37
• Noah S. Brannen: Ingredients for Learning Japanese, 55
• Saitô Ryôsuke: The Simplicity and Warmth of Traditional Toys, 63
• Ôtsuki Shinji: The FSX Problem Resolved? 70
• Saitô Yasuhiko: Impostor Refugees, Illegal Immigrants, 84
• Mizuno Takaaki: The Refugee Quandary, 89
• Ikemoto Yukio: The Rush to Invest in Thailand, 94
• Karol J. Szyndzielorz: The Drama of Peaceful Change in Poland, 100
• Hotta Yoshie: Culture's Common Threads, 106

Volume 37, Number 2 (April–June 1990)
• Imazu Hiroshi: Uniting a Divided Korea—Will Japan Help? 136
• Takabatake Michitoshi: The LDP Victory: A Clear Path for the Future? 145
• Odawara Atsushi: A Vague Uneasiness Haunts Voters, 153
• Hagiwara Shigeru: Can We Really Talk in Japanese? 158
• Lora Sharnoff: Foreigners Making Their Mark in Sumo, 164
• Yoshida Ritsuko: Getting Married the Corporate Way, 171
• Minamitani Akimasa: Hamlet in Japan, 176
• Ogawa Tomoko: Kabuki Travels to Europe, 194
• Janine Beichman: Yosano Akiko: Return to the Female, 204

Volume 37, Number 3 (July–September 1990)

- Takahashi Johsen and Hama Noriko: An Economic Metamorphosis for Japan? 260
- Chûma Kiyofuku: An End to the Cold War? 270
- Fukatsu Masumi: Centrist Survival in Jeopardy, 276
- Jonathan Holliman: Environmentalism With a Global Scope, 284
- Yamada Kunihiro: The Triple Evils of Golf Courses, 291
- Kurita Wataru: School Phobia, 298
- Linda Sherman: Breaking the Intimacy Barrier, 304
- Hibi Fumio: An Angel's Return, 313
- Akatsuka Yukio: Yokohama: Gateway to the Past and Future, 318
- Yorimoto Katsumi: Tokyo's Serious Waste Problem, 328
- G.W. Choudhury: The Leader in Economic Aid, 334
- Sugawara Nobuo: Overnight Celebrities, 339
- Juliet Winters Carpenter: Enchi Fumiko: "A Writer of Tales", 343

Volume 37, Number 4 (October–December 1990)

- Kurokawa Nobuyuki: Getting Serious About Land Prices, 392
- David Mammen: Toward an Urban Policy for Central Tokyo, 402
- Miyazaki Katsuji: Time to Reevaluate the Security Treaty, 416
- Oguri Keitarô: Resident Koreans Are Native Speakers Too, 424
- Leslie Pincus: Transgressing the Frames of Fiction, 433
- Ôtani Ken: Makuhari New Town, 451
- Janet Goff: Developing a Dialogue, 459
- Elizabeth Falconer: A New Decade for Hôgaku, 468
- Fukamachi Hiroki: The Pakistani Labor Pool, 479

Volume 38, Number 1 (January–March 1991)

- Odawara Atsushi: The Kaifu Bungle, 6
- Igarashi Takeshi: Circumventing Japan-U.S. Conflict, 15
- Kunugi Tatsurô: Toward a Renaissance of the United Nations, 23
- Takayama Satoshi: From Contention to Cooperation With the Soviets, 33
- Kurita Wataru: Enthroning a New Emperor, 42
- Arioka Jirô: Fewer Babies: A Private Matter? 50
- Kaji Nobuyuki: Confucianism, the Forgotten Religion, 57
- Edagawa Kôichi: Reflections on the Sumida River, 63
- John Bester: The Other Art of the Possible, 73
- Akatsuka Ryûsuke: Kitarô: Master of the Synthesizer, 85

Volume 38, Number 2 (April–June 1991)

- Asai Motofumi: Pacifism in a New International Order, 130
- Chûma Kiyofuku: The Choice Is Clear: Diplomacy Over Force, 142
- Kawahito Hiroshi: Death and the Corporate Warrior, 149
- Yoshida Ritsuko: Harvest of the Standard-Score Greenhouse, 159
- Kobayashi Shin'ya: Terrestrial Space Travel, 170
- Zakô Jun: For the Love of Mozart, 178
- Mary Goebel Noguchi: Japan's Blossoming Bilingual Population, 184
- Van C. Gessel: The Voice of the Doppelgänger, 198

Volume 38, Number 3 (July–September 1991)

- C. Douglas Lummis: Japan's Peace Common Sense, 246
- Kunimasa Takeshige: Kaifu's Shaky Grip on Power, 255
- Oguri Keitarô: In Search of Rapprochement: Tokyo and Pyongyang, 262

• Satô Ryûzô: Maturing From We-ism to Global You-ism, 273
• Takagi Masayuki: A Living Legacy of Discrimination, 283
• Ôsawa Chikako: International Marriage: Window for Understanding, 292
• Konaka Yôtarô: Shinjuku, Community of Encounter, 301
• Jared Lubarsky: The Man Who Owns Ten O'clock, 313
• Noah S. Brannen: Wanted! A Good Dictionary, 320
• Kudô Naotarô: On the Poet Miyazawa Kenji, 332

Volume 38, Number 4 (October–December 1991)

• Awaya Kentarô: Emperor Shôwa's Accountability for War, 386
• Sodei Rinjirô: No More Pearl Harbors, 399
• Asai Nobuo: Walking a Tightrope in the Middle East, 407
• John G. Russell: Narratives of Denial: Racial Chauvinism and the Black Other in Japan, 416
• Iwadare Hiroshi: Consumer Cooperatives in the Spotlight, 429
• Gerry Yokota: If Only a Voice Would Emerge, 436
• Lawrence Rogers: Confessions of a Kanjiphile, 446
• Peter Fetchko: A Yankee's Visit to Meiji Japan, 455
• Imaishi Masuyuki: Mary McMillan: Hiroshima's Angel of Peace, 470
• Marian E. Chambers: Ôba Minako: Rebirth in Alaska, 474

Volume 39, Number 1 (January–March 1992)

• Takabatake Michitoshi: Miyazawa Kiichi: A Statesman on Trial, 6
• Saitô Teruko: Japan's Inconsistent Approach to Burma, 17
• Ôkita Saburô: Toward the 21st Century: Japan's Assignment, 28
• Tashiro Yôichi: An Environmental Mandate for Rice Self-Sufficiency, 34
• Omi Ichirô: The Compensation Scandal in Japanese Finance, 45
• Okumura Hiroshi: Corporate Capitalism: Cracks in the System, 54
• Watanabe Hiroshi: A New Look for Hitachi City, 62
• Satô Yukio: Chernobyl's Child Victims, 72
• Sherill A. Leonard: Attorney Ethics and the Size of the Japanese Bar, 86
• Rebecca L. Copeland: Motherhood as Institution, 101

Volume 39, Number 2 (April–June 1992)

• Miyagi Etsujirô: Okinawa's 20th Reversion Anniversary, 146
• Yamauchi Toshihiro: Gunning for Japan's Peace Constitution, 159
• Furuta Motoo: Changing Times for Vietnam and Japan, 168
• Saitô Minoru: Japanese and the Russian Struggle Toward a New System, 176
• Maruyama Yoshinari: The Big Six Horizontal Keiretsu, 186
• Inagaki Tadashi: Volcanic Refugees in Limbo, 200
• Kathleen Morikawa: The Popular Media: Self-Appointed Public Avengers, 211
• Mark Schilling: Worshiping the Naked Goddess: The Media, Mores, and Miyazawa Rie, 218
• Ralph F. McCarthy: Dazai Osamu: After the Silence, 225
• Watanabe Hiroshi: Continuity and Change in Harajuku, 238
• Richard A. Kavesh: Midori: A Prodigy Who Kept Her Promise, 251

Volume 39, Number 3 (July–September 1992)

• Toyoda Toshiyuki: Beyond the Mind-set of Deterrence to Genuine Disarmament, 290
• Mori Hideki: Greasing the Wheels of Power, 303
• Habu Nagaho: The Philippines' New Start and Japan, 311

• Teranishi Shun'ichi: The Lessons of Japan's Battle With Pollution, 321
• Mark Brazil: The Wildlife of Japan: A 20th-Century Naturalist's View, 328
• Mary Goebel Noguchi: The Rise of the Housewife Activist, 339
• Inami Shinnosuke: Going After the Yakuza, 353
• Caren Acker: The Gods on My Shoulder, 359
• Fujitani Chikuji: Nôkyô at a Crossroads, 369
• Janet Goff: Noh Blossoms in a Castle Town, 381
• Saeki Toshirô: Hotta Tsutomu: Public Prosecutor Turned Social Worker, 392

Volume 39, Number 4 (October–December 1992)
• Takabatake Michitoshi: The Challenge of the Floating Vote, 426
• Tanaka Katsuhiko: Mongolia: A Distant Neighbor Draws Closer, 434
• Mogi Toshihiko: The Disabled in Society, 440
• Maeda Osamu: Hoshino Tomihiro: The Flower Poet, 449
• Eric C. Sedensky: Pachinko Passion, 457
• Kimura Tatsuya: Credit Card Quicksand, 465
• Kobayashi Shin'ya: A Dutch Enclave in Japan, 471
• Diane M. Hoffman: Changing Faces, Changing Places: The New Koreans in Japan, 479
• Jay Rubin: The Other World of Murakami Haruki, 490

Volume 40, Number 1 (January–March 1993)
• Takahashi Johsen and Hama Noriko: The Year of the Cock: A Harsh Wake-up Call, 6
• Nishiguchi Kiyokatsu: Toward an East Asian Free Trade Area, 14
• Môri Akira: Capitalist Winds in Socialist China, 19
• Odawara Atsushi: How Factionalism Is Undermining Japanese Politics, 28
• Horimoto Takenori: Synchronizing Japan-India Relations, 34
• Ishizawa Yoshiaki: Picking Up the Pieces: Japan's Contribution to the Restoration of the Angkor Monuments, 42
• Kumaoka Michiya: Reaching Out to Displaced Cambodians, 53
• Shimojima Norio: Satellites for Commercial Orbit, 59
• Mark Schreiber: Nenga-jô: New Year's Greetings by Mail, 66
• Masai Takamichi: High Structures Lower Kyoto's Horizons, 79
• Elizabeth Falconer: Sawai Kazue, Avant-Garde Kotoist, 86

Volume 40, Number 2 (April–June 1993)
• Florian Coulmas: Responsibility Allocation and Networks in Japanese Society, 126
• Shiomi Toshiyuki: One Saturday Off in the Schools, 136
• Noah S. Brannen: Translating Style, 142
• Gonda Manji: Crime Fiction With a Social Consciousness, 157
• Kubota Jun and Ueno Takeshi: Preserving the Verse of Bygone Bards, 165
• Kathleen Morikawa: Profile of a Country Village: Minami Aiki in Spring, 175
• Ni'ide Makoto: Post Towns, Living Reminders of the Past, 184
• Koike Tamio: The Dawning of a New Age of Sumo, 193
• Mark Schilling: Into the Heartland With Tora-san, 199
• Tôgô Shigehiko: Owada Masako, Crown Princess With a New Air, 207

Volume 40, Number 3 (July–September 1993)
• Mizuguchi Hiroshi: Political Reform: Much Ado About Nothing? 246
• Sasaki Yoshitaka: Japan's Undue International Contribution, 259
• Shôno Naomi: Mute Reminders of Hiroshima's Atomic Bombing, 267

• Onozawa Jun: Japan and Malaysia: The EAEC Test of Commitment, 277
• Jean Wilson: Enka: The Music People Love or Hate, 283
• Mori Mayumi: The Neighborly Neighborhood of Yanaka, 292
• Kathleen Morikawa: Profile of a Country Village: Minami Aiki in Summer, 299
• Ni'ide Makoto: A Pilgrimage to Japan's Sacred Past, 306
• Tamae Prindle: Shiroyama Saburô, Godfather of Business Novels, 320
• Suzuki Kazue: Itami Jûzô, Director Extraordinaire, 329

Volume 40, Number 4 (October–December 1993)
• Christal Whelan: Wenceslau de Morães: The Man and the Myth, 368
• Yamamoto Harumi: The Lifetime Employment System Unravels, 381
• Takabatake Michitoshi: The July Revolution and Conservative Self-Renewal, 387
• Endô Orie: Sexism in Japanese-Language Dictionaries, 395
• Maeda Yasumasa: Current Events on Stage, 399
• Mark Schilling: Doraemon: Making Dreams Come True, 405
• Takahashi Jun and Suzuki Kazue: Scoring Big With Soccer, 418
• Watanabe Hiroshi: Andô Tadao, An Architect Who Disdains Comfort, 426
• Kathleen Morikawa: Profile of a Country Village: Minami Aiki in Autumn, 437
• James Ryan: The Split Personality of Ôe Kenzaburô, 444

Volume 41, Number 1 (January–March 1994)
• Minowa Shigeo: The Printed English Word in Japan, 6
• Ni'ide Makoto: Rice Imports and Implications, 16
• Shi'ina Masae: Coping Alone: When Work Separates Families, 26
• Florian Coulmas: Eternal Change at the Grand Shrine of Ise, 36
• Jane Singer: The Organic, Sensual Art of Contemporary Ikebana, 44
• Kathleen Morikawa: Profile of a Country Village: Minami Aiki in Winter, 57
• Sakai Ken'ichi: Harada Taizi: Painter of Naiveté, 66
• Lawrence Rogers: Long Belts, Thin Men: The Short Stories of Kojima Nobuo, 77
• Michael Hoffman: Expatriate Literature Takes Root, 90

Volume 41, Number 2 (April–June 1994)
• Iwamura Tatsurô: Hosokawa Morihiro: Resolute but Manipulated, 134
• Ishikawa Masumi: An SDPJ Collapse From Within? 141
• Charles Overby: A Quest for Peace With Article 9, 146
• Honma Masayoshi: Rice and the Six-Year Grace Period: Opportunity for Realism, 157
• Lucy Seligman: The History of Japanese Cuisine, 165
• Peter Metevelis: Translating Kawabata's Thenar Stories, 181
• Suzuki Kazue: Yoshi's Parents and Their Campaign for Gun Control, 192
• Suzuki Yûga: English-Language Book Publishing in Japan, 200
• Burt A. Courtier: Out of the Ring: Sumo's Human Face, 209

Volume 41, Number 3 (July–September 1994)
• Fukatsu Masumi: Political Reform's Path of No Return, 254
• Yamanoue Reiko: One Marriage, Two Names, 263
• Tom Gill: Sanya Street Life Under the Heisei Recession, 270
• Jonathan Lloyd-Owen: Queue Here for Rice, 287
• Fujita Hiroshi: English-Language Periodicals in Japan, 298
• Edward Putzar: The Reality of Domon Ken, 308
• Cody Poulton: The Grotesque and Gothic: Izumi Kyôka's Japan, 324
• Henry J. Hughes: Between the Waves: A Stranger's Home in Niigata, 336

Volume 41, Number 4 (October–December 1994)

• Yamamoto Tadashi: Changing Patterns of International Exchange, 382
• Takabatake Michitoshi: Summer's Political Fireworks and the Future of Japan's Social Democrats, 396
• Henry J. Hughes: Fall's Fury: A Stranger's Home in Niigata, 407
• Watanabe Hiroshi: Kyoto Fragments: Divisions and Discontinuities in an Ancient City, 416
• Christal Whelan: Japan's Vanishing Minority: The Kakure Kirishitan of the Gotô Islands, 434
• Mark Schilling: New Signs of Life in Japanese Cinema, 450
• Andrew Horvat: Karhu and Jacoulet: Western Printmakers in an Eastern World, 460
• Haruhara Akihiko: English-Language Newspapers in Japan, 474
• Suzuki Kazue: Thirty-five Years in the Newsroom, 485
• David C. Earhart: Nagai Kafû's Wartime Diary: The Enormity of Nothing, 488

Volume 42, Number 1 (January–March 1995)

• Nishijima Takeo: How the Baby Boomers Stirred Up Society, 6
• Suzuki Kazue: Women Rebuff the Call for More Babies, 14
• Ikeda Eriko: Society and AIDS, 21
• Mark Schreiber: Imports Start to Shake Japan's Consumer Markets, 33
• Michael Hoffman: On the Road in Japan, 44
• Ôishi Yoshino: Photographing Cambodia's Torment, 56
• Henry J. Hughes: Snow and Sake: A Stranger's Home in Niigata, 67
• Fukatsu Masumi: The SDPJ's Astronomical Shift in Policy, 76
• Susanne Akemi Wegmüller: A Champon State of Mind, 83
• John Nathan: Ôe Kenzaburô: Mapping the Land of Dreams, 89

Volume 42, Number 2 (April–June 1995)

• Hashimoto Meiko: Intoxicated Youth, 136
• Anthony Head: Japan and the Safe Society, 146
• Fukuzawa Keiko: Women's Hiring Woes, 155
• Fukatsu Masumi: Whither Goes the 1955 System? 163
• Jean Wilson: Samurai Dramas in the Contemporary Theater, 170
• Henry J. Hughes: Spring Arrives: A Stranger's Home in Niigata, 187
• Ni'ide Makoto: The Monk Who Left Smiles Across Half of Japan, 195
• Elizabeth Falconer: Mission Possible: Learning Japanese, 205
• Keiko Matsui Gibson: Noma Hiroshi's Novelistic Synthesis of Buddhism and Marxism, 212

Volume 42, Number 3 (July–September 1995)

• Iriye Akira: Understanding Japan-U.S. Relations, 1945–1995, 256
• Seki Chieko: Hiroshima Storytellers Keep History Alive, 265
• Fukatsu Masumi: Nonaligned Voters and the Rout of Japan's Political Establishment, 273
• Louis Templado: The Maruki Legacy, 281
• Jared Lubarsky: A Prodigy's Forbidden Transition, 290
• Michael Hoffman: Otaru: The River in the Sands, 298
• Edward Neilan: The New Foreign Correspondent in Japan, 307
• Watanabe Hiroshi: Osaka: The Altered Landscape, 317
• Hilaria Gössmann: The Quest for Emancipation: The Autobiographical Novels of Miyamaoto Yuriko and Sata Ineko, 332

Volume 42, Number 4 (October–December 1995)
• Kitabatake Kiyoyasu: Aum Shinrikyô: Society Begets an Aberration, 376
• Noah S. Brannen: A Religious Response to the Aum Affair, 384
• Philip Brasor and Tsubuku Masako: Young Men Take to Consumerism, 391
• Norma Field: The Stakes of Apology, 405
• Fukatsu Masumi: The Eclipse of Shôwa Taboos and the Apology Resolution, 419
• Robert J. Carraro: Atomic Consciousness Across the Pacific, 426
• Fujita Hiroshi: UN Reform and Japan's Permanent Security Council Seat, 436
• Ishikawa Masumi: Voting in the Year of the Boar: The Confidence Crisis in Politics, 443
• Michael Hoffman: Otaru: Glass Wires, Stone Circles, and All That Jazz, 451

Volume 43, Number 1 (January–March 1996)
• Miyamoto Ken'ichi: Learning the Lessons of Disaster, 6
• Nakata Toyokazu: Budding Volunteerism, 22
• Miyagi Etsujirô: Redressing the Okinawan Base Problem, 27
• Hayashi Kôji: Economic Ties With Post-Apartheid South Africa, 33
• Mike Millard: Reforming Japan: A Puzzle With No Solution, 38
• Tsurunen Marutei: My Bid for the House of Councilors, 47
• Benjamin Duke: Charles Lanman and the Japanese in America (1872), 55
• David Bull: Karuta: Sport or Culture? 67
• Michael Hoffman: Otaru: Suffering Skies, 78
• Janice Brown: Hayashi Fumiko: Voice From the Margin, 85
Volume 43, Number 2 (April–June 1996)
• Takanarita Tôru: Shaking the Financial System, 126
• David Atkinson: Banking Crisis? What Banking Crisis? 133
• Wakamiya Yoshibumi: Jury Still Out on Murayama Cabinet, 137
• Hashimoto Meiko: Becoming Aware of Child Abuse, 145
• David C. Hulme: Corporate Dinosaurs Feel the Chill, 153
• Jane Singer: The Dream World of Takarazuka, 162
• Jeffrey S. Irish: Yamabushi: Summoning the Mountain's Powers, 182
• Peter McIvor: Lafcadio Hearn's First Day in the Orient, 190
• Tom Gill: Kon Wajirô, Modernologist, 198
• Michael Hoffman: Otaru: Ocean's Bounty, 208
Volume 43, Number 3 (July–September 1996)
• Mike M. Mochizuki: Toward a New Japan-U.S. Alliance, 4
• Philip J. Cunningham: Interview: An invitation to Okinawa, 12
• Frank B. Gibney: The Bureaucracy at Bay, 17
• Itagaki Tetsuya: Kan Naoto Stirs the Health Ministry, 24
• Mark Schilling: Yakuza Films: Fading Celluloid Heroes, 30
• Tony D. Guzewicz: A New Generation of Homeless, 43
• Suzuki Kazue: Equal Job Opportunity for Whom? 54
• Louis Templado: Young Women Focus Upon Themselves, 61
• Tony Dickensheets: The Role of the Education Mama, 73
• Tsubuku Masako and Philip Brasor: The Value of a Family, 79
Volume 43, Number 4 (October–December 1996)
• Ikeda Yukihiko: Japanese Asia-Pacific Diplomacy, 4
• Chalmers Johnson: Containing China, 10
• Ofer Feldman: Nagatachô Beat: Messengers or Minions? 20

• Roger Pulvers: Miyazawa Kenji, Rebel With a Cause, 30
• Rochelle Kopp: Ricochet Effect of U.S. Sexual Harassment Suit, 42
• Nishiyama Akira: Among Friends: The Seductive Power of Bullying, 51
• Michael Redmond: A Go Player's Passion for Concentration, 58
• Timon Screech: Clock Metaphors in Edo Period Japan, 66
• Wakisaka Noriyuki: Putting People Into Aid Programs, 76
• David C. Hulme: Osaka Ready for the Spotlight, 82

Volume 44, Number 1 (January–March 1997)
• Wakamiya Yoshibumi: Hashimoto Administration's Clouded Future, 4
• Robert D. Eldridge: See How They Run, 11
• Paul S. Giarra: Point of Choice, Point of Departure, 16
• Mark Schilling: Miyazaki Hayao and Studio Ghibli, 30
• Glynne Walley: Two Murakamis and Their American Influence, 41
• Peter Grilli: Takemitsu Tôru—An Appreciation, 51
• Sasaki Takeshi: Maruyama Masao and the Spirit of Politics, 59
• Nicholas Walker: The Year Pachinko Blinked, 64
• William Corr: Tokugawa Ieyasu's Englishman, 74
• Jeffrey S. Irish: Fired With Enthusiasm: Life at a Kyoto Kiln, 83
Volume 44, Number 2 (April–June 1997)
• Satô Michio: Soul-Searching Time for Bureaucrats, 4
• Sam Jameson: Spotlight on Bureaucrats, 10
• Roger Schreffler: Mazda's Synergy Strategy, 16
• Todd Crowell and Usui Naoaki: Japan's Missile Vulnerability, 25
• James Udesky: The Art of Noodles, 32
• Andrew Rankin: Nakagami Kenji—Against the Grain, 43
• Philip Brasor and Tsubuku Masako: Idol Chatter, 55
• Janet Goff: Foxes in Japanese Culture, 66
• Mark Schreiber: Juvenile Crime in the 1990s, 78
• Robert B Leflar: The Medical Information Fulcrum, 89
Volume 44, Number 3 (July–September 1997)
• Nakasone Yasuhiro: Rethinking the Constitution: Make It a Japanese Document, 4
• Miyazawa Kiichi: Rethinking the Constitution: A Document Tested by Time, 10
• Ogino Hiroshi: The Sôkaiya's Grip on Corporate Japan, 15
• Louis J. Ross: Repercussions of Japan's Big Bang, 23
• Noda Tomosuke: Paddling the Shimanto, 30
• Okamoto Mitsuo: The A-Bomb Dome as World Heritage, 40
• Martin Harwit: How Lobbying Changed the History of Enola Gay, 48
• Douglas Stuart: Japan's Place in the New Asian Concert, 60
• Herbert Plutschow: Matsuri in Everyday Japan, 66
• Takachi Junichirô: The Poetic Epiphany of Tanikawa Shuntarô, 78
• Kitagaki Hiromi: Japanese-Language Education, 90
Volume 44, Number 4 (October–December 1997)
• Sheila Smith: Wider Implications of the Bilateral Alliance, 4
• Michael O'Hanlon: A New Japan-U.S. Security Bargain, 12
• Ishi Hiroyuki: Japan's Challenges in Curbing Global Warming, 20
• Fukatsu Hiroshi: Tideland Project Brings Waves of Controversy, 26
• Roger Pulvers: Rocking Japan's Literary Boat, 38
• Patricia Welch: Rakugo Humor and Society, 47

• Bill Crowley: Good for a Laugh: A Comic Storyteller's Tale, 55
• Hashimoto Akiko: Designing Family Values, 59
• William W. Kelly: An Anthropologist in the Bleachers, 66
• Glenn Davis: Lee Harvey Oswald's Japan Tour, 80

Volume 45, Number 1 (January–March 1998)
• Kitano Takeshi: Respect at Last? Hold Your Tickets, 4
• Mark Schilling: New Breed Revives Japanese Films, 8
• Linda C. Ehrlich: Dancing for the Fun of It, 22
• Shinozaki Makoto: Neophyte Director Dismantles Barriers, 26
• Yoshida Katsuji: The Administrative Reform Debacle, 30
• Yamada Atsushi: Change-Proof Finance Ministry, 37
• Kuroyanagi Tetsuko: Children Die Silently, 41
• Ukai Masaki: Traveling Troupes Play to the Masses, 53
• Matthew C. Strecher: Murakami Haruki: Japan's Coolest Writer Heats Up, 61
• Michael Hoffman: Heian's Modern Merits, 70
• Bôzono Shigeru: Yakuza on the Defensive, 79
• Ikuko Anjo Jassey: Gender in Elementary School Texts, 87
Volume 45, Number 2 (April–June 1998)
• Kent E. Calder: Japan's Crucial Role in Asia's Financial Crisis, 4
• Alicia Ogawa: Japan's Banks More Vulnerable, 10
• Konstantin Sarkisov: Progress in Japan-Russia Relations, 15
• Kaga Gen: The View From Nemuro, 20
• Anthony DiFilippo: Why Japan Should Redirect Its Security Policy, 24
• Linda C. Ehrlich: Migishi Setsuko—Portrait of an Artist, 32
• Migishi Kôtarô: My Mother, the Artist, 43
• Gregory Clark: Overcoming Japan's English Allergy, 46
• Lawrence K. Hong: Japanese Pop Culture on the New Silk Road, 54
• Setoue Kenjirô: Memoir of an Island Doctor, 61
• Dazai Osamu: A Tsugaru Fireside Tale: "Lies" (A Short Story. Translated by James Kirkup and Nakano Michio), 75
• William N. Ridgeway: Natsume Sôseki and Male Identity Crisis, 82
Volume 45, Number 3 (July–September 1998)
• Ogino Hiroshi: Bureaucratic Prestige Imperiled, 4
• Richard C. Hanson: Rage Against the Machine, 11
• Gail Goebel Nakada: Foreign Women Push Business Boundaries, 15
• Konishiki Yasokichi: My Life as a Rikishi, 23
• Stephen Mansfield: Tokyo, the Organic Labyrinth, 31
• Gerald Groemer: Takahashi Chikuzan: A Retrospective, 42
• Janice Brown: Ôba Minako—Telling the Untellable, 50
• Jane Singer: Chanoyu, the Way of Tea, 60
• Jennifer Callans: Craving for Edible Souvenirs, 67
• Takahashi Shôtarô: When Student Violence Erupts, 77
• Kawanishi Yûko: Breaking Up Still Hard to Do, 84
Volume 45, Number 4 (October–December 1998)
• Hoshi Hiroshi: Precarious Prospects for the Obuchi Cabinet, 4
• Yashiro Naohiro: Understanding Japan's Unemployment, 10
• Shitara Kiyotsugu: Workers Caught in Job Crossfire, 17
• Imai Ryûkichi: Renewed Effort to Limit Nuclear Weapons, 23

• Ed Gutierrez: Scaling Mount Fuji, 29
• Peter McGill: Paving Japan—The Construction Boondoggle, 39
• Ann D. Brucklacher: Crunch for Aomori Apple Growers, 49
• Roger Pulvers: Refilling the Glass—Sakaguchi Ango's Legacy, 56
• Richard Flavin: The Ogawa Papermaking Tradition, 66
• Mizutani Osamu: Youth Under Siege in a World of Drugs, 76
• Johanne Léveillé and Martin Nuttall: Being Korean in Japan, 83

Volume 46, Number 1 (January–March 1999)
• Kômura Masahiko: Japan's Eurasian Diplomacy, 4
• Yoshida Yasuhiko: Pyongyang's Airborne Threat, 10
• Michael J. Green and Nagashima Akihisa: Key Areas to Watch, 17
• Gail Goebel Nakada: Stay Tuned for Satellite TV, 24
• Stephen Mansfield: The Indelible Art of the Tattoo, 30
• Mark Schilling: Kurosawa Akira: Reflections on a Movie Legend, 42
• Amy V. Heinrich: Saitô Mokichi—As Though Alive, 50
• Koizumi Takeo: Japan's Rich Rice Culture, 58
• Robert Neff: Tradition Reigns at Japan's Onsen, 65
• Ôtake Hideko: Japanese Reflections in an American Mirror, 76
• Ôta Mutsumi: Dad Takes Child-care Leave, 83
Volume 46, Number 2 (April–June 1999)
• Kitaoka Shinichi: LDP-Liberal Coalition Prospects, 4
• Murata Yasuo: Working Around Rice Imports, 10
• Jean R. Renshaw: Women in Management Roles, 15
• Nakazawa Takao: Small Businesses Scale the Peak, 22
• Valerie Koehn: Japanese Men Make Streetwise Statements, 30
• Jane Singer: Returnees Now More at Home, 41
• J. Philip Gabriel: Shimao Toshio's Quest for Yaponesia, 50
• Sata Ineko: "Water" (A Short Story. Translated by James Kirkup and Nakano Michio), 60
• Ed Gutierrez: Shigaraki—Garden of Earthy Delights, 66
• Takahashi Shôtarô: Chaos in Elementary Classrooms, 78
• Saitô Jirô: Grownups Should Listen to the Kids, 83
Volume 46, Number 3 (July–September 1999)
• Tanaka Aiji: Why Ishihara Shintarô Won, 3
• Masuzoe Yôichi: Being Swift Is Not Enough, 10
• Ogawa Kazuhisa: Substantive Debate Needed, 17
• George Gmelch: Pickup Basketball Meets Janken, 24
• Tôgi Hideki: Gagaku's Pleasures and Possibilities, 30
• Yamada Atsushi: Death of a Salaryman, 40
• Ôshika Yasuaki: Sony Out to Reinvent Itself, 47
• Murakami Yumiko: Hollywood's Slanted View, 54
• Maggie Kinser Saiki: Living in Grass Houses, 64
• Yoshihama Mieko: Domestic Violence: Japan's "Hidden Crime", 76
• Fujita Kôichirô: The Perils of Being Too Fastidious, 83
Volume 46, Number 4 (October–December 1999)
• Shimizu Tateo: Japan, the Ambiguous, and Its Flag and Anthem, 3
• Shimotomai Nobuo: Japan and the War in Kosovo, 10
• Roger Schreffler: Alternative Autos Hit the Road, 17

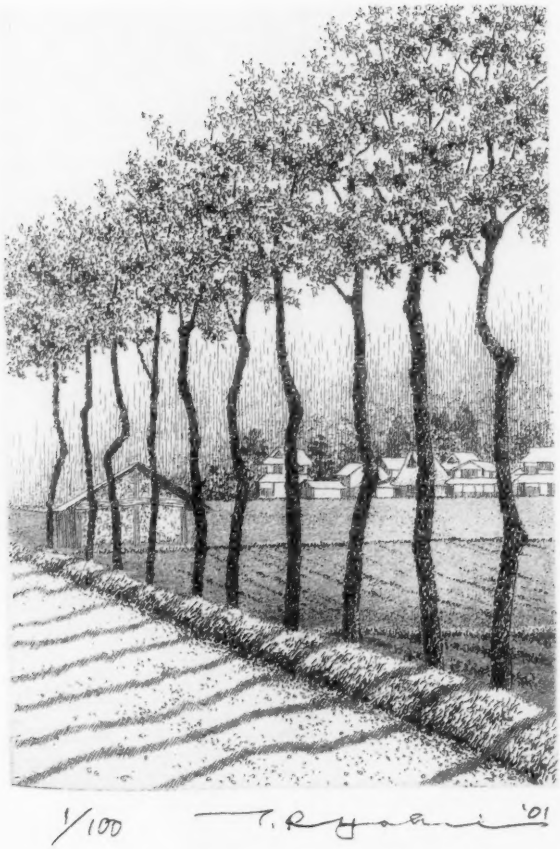
• Ronald Cavaye: Voices From the Kabuki Gallery, 24
• Miyatsuka Toshio: Yakiniku—Savory Dish With Simple Origins, 31
• Uchimura Etsuzô: Stalking the Japanese Bamboo, 42
• Anne Usher: The Old Ad Adage Survives, 49
• Maya Mortimer: Genuflecting at the Altar of French Art, 57
• Matsumoto Itsuya: Earliest Cameras Focus on Japan, 66
• Aoki Hiroshi: Japan's Overseas Volunteers, 77
• Ashino Yuriko: Long Wait for Birth Control Pills, 86

Volume 47, Number 1 (January–March 2000)
• Tominomori Eiji: Assessing a Patchwork Coalition, 3
• Gabe Masaaki: Okinawa Summit No Solution, 10
• Odawara Atsushi: The Dawn of Constitutional Debate, 17
• Michael Hoffman: The Long Road to Wakkanai, 23
• Philip Harper: Getting Into the Spirit of Sake, 30
• Ogino Hiroshi: Banks Unite to Survive, 41
• Fujita Hidenori: Crossroads in Japanese Education, 49
• Yoshida Yasuhiko: Nuclear Safety Issue Jars Japan, 56
• Matsumoto Toshimichi: Ekiben—Japan's Savory Train Fare, 65
• Ed Gutierrez: Samurai in Spain, 76
• Jack Russell: Convenience in Store, 83
Volume 47, Number 2 (April–June 2000)
• Murayama Tomiichi: Beyond My Visit to Pyongyang, 3
• Izumi Hajime: Pyongyang Grasps New Realities, 11
• Haraguchi Kôichi: Getting WTO Back on Track, 17
• Takashima Nobuyoshi: Okinawa's Cornerstone of Peace, 24
• Kawazoe Fusae: Hikaru Genji's Next Millennium, 31
• Tsuchimoto Takeshi: Light and Shadow in Japan's Police System, 41
• Ochiai Hiromitsu: Who Polices the Police? 50
• Maggie Kinser Saiki: Gomi Tarô's Art of Individuality, 58
• Morieda Takashi: The Unlikely Love Affair With Curry and Rice, 66
• Jane Singer: Japan's Singular "Doubles", 76
• Murakami Takeshi: Othello: Game of the Century, 83
Volume 47, Number 3 (July–September 2000)
• Hayano Tôru: LDP Stumbles in Obuchi's Wake, 3
• Inamine Keiichi: Okinawa as Pacific Crossroads, 10
• Nakai Masakatsu: Tales of Henoko (A Photo Essay), 17
• Ohta Fusae: "Omoroi" Osaka, 25
• Andrew Horvat: Revisionism Revisited—The Era of Bilateral Acrimony, 33
• Ehara Yumiko: Feminism's Growing Pains, 41
• Juliet Winters Carpenter: Shitsurakuen—An Affair to Remember, 49
• Igaya Chiharu: Keeping the Olympic Flame Alive, 56
• Ôe Kenzaburô: Soul of Okinawa, 63
• Selected Reading on Okinawa and Security, 87
Volume 47, Number 4 (October–December 2000)
• Kôno Yôhei: Pursuing Positive Korea Policy, 3
• Odagawa Kô: Japan-North Korea Reconciliation, 9
• Fukukawa Shinji: Awakening to the IT Revolution, 16
• Matsunaga Mari: "Analog" Woman Hastens Digital Data Delivery, 23

• Yokoyama Katsuhiko: Yamamoto Yôko: Imagination Running Free, 30
• Noguchi Ken: Cleaning Up Mount Everest, 45
• Shimpo Hirohisa: Parallel Lives of Japan's Master Detectives, 52
• Mark Schreiber: Jidaigeki: TV Heroes Face a New Century, 58
• Funabiki Takeo: Professional Roots and Branches, 67
• Jeffrey S. Irish: Mourning in Rural Japan, 73
• David C. McMurray: A Whole Universe in a Few Words, 82

Volume 48, Number 1 (January–March 2001)
• Nakabô Kôhei: Japan's Homework for the 21st Century, 3
• Yamada Masahiro: Parasite Singles Feed on Family System, 10
• Sakonjû Terukazu: Corporate Sports Sponsorship, 17
• Uchida Tatsuru: The Paradox of Budô, 24
• Theodore C. Bestor: Tsukiji, Tokyo's Pantry, 31
• Kimura Masao: Tickling Japan's Funny Bone, 42
• Shimizu Akira: Laughter—The Perfect Prescription, 50
• Nomura Mansai: Exploring Kyôgen's Global Potential, 58
• Adam Kabat: Monsters as Edo Merchandise, 66
• Joseph LaPenta: Ears Wide Open in Noisy Japan, 78
• Midori Yamanouchi: Voices From Beyond Time, 86
Volume 48, Number 2 (April–June 2001)
• Sakaiya Taichi: Rebuilding the Japanese Economy, 3
• Inaka Yoshiaki: Changing the Way Japan Is Led, 10
• Sakamoto Kazuya: Advancing the Japan-U.S. Alliance, 18
• Satô Toshiki: Is Japan a "Classless" Society? 25
• Katô Takeshi: Japan in the Majors, 31
• Roger Schreffler: Foreign Fit, Domestic Finish, 42
• Kornelius Purba: Sensitivity and Japan-Indonesia Ties, 50
• Hara Takeshi: Emperor Taishô—Image vs. Reality, 56
• Nakayama Keiko: Wagashi—Treats for All Seasons, 64
• Kayama Rika: Why Hard-Luck Stories Sell, 75
• Donald Richie: Interpretations of Japan, 81
Volume 48, Number 3 (July–September 2001)
• Kitagawa Masayasu: Mie's Bold Bid for Change, 3
• Hara Yôko: A Diet Rookie's First Season, 10
• Ihori Toshihiro: Burrowing Out of Indebtedness, 18
• Saitô Takao: Increasingly Less Equal, 24
• Takahata Isao: 12th-Century Moving Pictures, 31
• Matt Thorn: Shôjo Manga—Something for Girls, 43
• Kitazawa Takuya: Textbook History Repeats Itself, 51
• Everett K. Brown: In Search of the Spirit of Sport, 58
• Okumura Ayao: Japan's Ramen Romance, 66
• Fukushima Satoshi: Three Barriers I Want to Eliminate, 77
• Sano Shinichi: Publishing Industry's Sorry Chapter, 84
Volume 48, Number 4 (October–December 2001)
• Funabashi Yôichi: Japan's Unfinished Success Story, 4
• Yoshida Shinichi: "Lost Decade" Invokes Political Shift, 19
• Anabuki Fumio: Opinions in Pen and Ink, 29
• Yamada Atsushi: Japan's Economic Crossroads, 45

• Shimizu Tateo: Gathering Thunder Clouds of Crime, 55
• Katô Chihiro: The New Matrix of Japan-China Ties, 62
• Saeki Toshirô: Amendment Is Just a Grand Illusion, 72,
• Japan Quarterly Contents: Vol. 1 (1954)–Vol. 48 (2001), 80



Trees Along Rice Paddies,
By Tanaka Ryôhei